Renovation of High School at Cost of $4 Million Recommended

Renovate the present Princeton High School building at an estimated cost of $4 million, rather than build a new high school for twice that much.

That's the recommendation in "Blueprint for Change," the latest report of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Long Range planning for the Princeton schools.

The report, with its blueprint cover and 24 recommendations, will be in every householder's mailbox by next week. Since the 13-member committee formally went out of existence Tuesday night, as its chairman William K. Selden presented the report to the school board, there will not be any public hearings on the reports, as there were on the committee's interim report issued last fall. However, board president Robert Biernan promised that various parts of the report will be brought before the town from time to time.

"This is not in any sense a 'final' report," Mr. Selden emphasizes." Our committee didn't review all the issues in the Princeton school system for one thing, and also, long-range planning must be a continuing process."

Highlights:

● John Witherspoon should become the Middle School, with Walnut Lane erased between Houghton and Guyot to make a campus with the high school. Community Park would then become an elementary school and Valley Road could be converted to some kind of non-educational use, perhaps for municipal and community purposes.

● Children should start kindergarten at 4 and enter first grade at 5, with the possibility of completing high school one year earlier than they do at present. A student who did both would therefore graduate from high school two years earlier than now. Individualized instruction would mean that some students could take longer, and even less time, to finish.

● The staff — both teaching and non-teaching — should be re-

A Choice Of Two Plans Offered

Architects have submitted to the long-range planning committee two kinds of plans for the renovated high school: a plan with two "houses" of 600 students each, built around English, social studies and languages, and a second plan for a traditional departmental organization.

The architects — McLeod, Ferrara and Ensign of Washington, D.C. — worked with the enrollment of 1,200 students that Princeton's school board expects to have, following the 1975 withdrawal of 400 sending-district students.

Both plans provide for additions to the present building: a new girls' gymnasium and locker room next to the present boys' gym; expanded areas for choral music and stagecraft built out from the present instrumental music department; a new main entry for the school (with bus and car loading) approximately where the guidance office entrance is, facing Houghton; new, extended shop space near the present area; the present open courtyard half closed in to provide Fine-arts studios.

On the alterations side, a new Library Resource Center will go where the girls gym now is, surrounded by audio-visual and media rooms and library workshops. A dining balcony will be built in the air-space of the present cafeteria, and a Student Commons here will open directly ahead of the newly-aligned main entry on Houghton

The addition of new areas will provide about 160 square feet per pupil for a 1,200-pupil school. Architects say this is an optimal space provision for a modern high school.

SCRAPE WE MUST FOR A SMOOTHER POOL BOTTOM: A chorus of the Volga boat song might seem appropriate to Bob King, Howard Sweeney, Ted Brown and Dane Clark, who are using carborundum rubbing stones to smooth the bottom of the swimming pool at Community Park. Normally, to smooth the roughness left by the previous season and prevent scraped feet, the Recreation Department has the bottom painted. Sanding the marble dust surface is more economical, however, and the loose coping stones which have to be replaced next year are one reason why the department is trying to cut costs wherever it can. Also taking part in Operation Elbow Grease were Leon Robinson and Jim Bolster.

BIKE PATHS ARE NEARER

But Wrinkles Need Ironing. The Princeton Regional Planning Board, after a two-hour public hearing Tuesday on bicycle paths for Princeton, decided to incorporate the suggestions of its Master Plan at an executive session that will follow its regular June meeting next Tuesday. Its final recommendations will go before Borough Council and Township Committee for consideration.

While there were only two bicycles parked outside Borough Hall, the parking lot overflowed with cars, and the Borough Council chamber was filled to capacity by proponents of the board's projected bicycle master plan, most of whom had particular items they wanted clarified.

The six-phase proposal is for 20 miles of transportation routes, using the sidewalks or low-traffic streets for routes to and from school, the shops and errands. An additional 19.6 miles is suggested for recreation purposes. Cost of bike path construction, on the basis of four-foot wide paths, is $3.50 per linear foot at today's prices.

Hans K. Sander, chairman, restated the board's belief that bicycles can contribute significantly to the easing of the transportation problem in Princeton. "Since the long-range traffic projections anticipate continued increases in our traffic volume, it is clearly in the community interest to encourage the use of bicycles."

The Bicycle Census. Most of the audience was stunned when Mrs. Stanton Waterman of the Conservation Coalition stated that there are 17,000 bicycles currently in use in the Borough and Township. She said the number will increase, "and this means a shift in the traffic pattern." She recommended signs on access roads to Princeton warning motorists to watch out for cyclists.

Particulars presented to the board for consideration included rights of the pedestrian and consideration of the elderly pedestrians. Mrs. Pamela Macbold of the Township Conservation Commission reminded the board that her organization recommended bike paths six feet wide. Mr. Sander responded that cost was a factor and there was a possibility of two paths, each two feet wide.

A cyclist, who said he had put in 1500 miles on his bike in Princeton during the past year, told the board about sewer gratings "that trap one-quarter of my tire!" Curb cuts were unanimously requested.

Bike facilities in the central business district were discussed at some length, with the board promising bike stands. "They will eventually be metered!" Board member William W. Walker joked. At least those present decided it was a joke, and laughed heartily.

Along the Canal? A bike path along the canal was questioned by one resident as unnecessary; another doubted that the State of New Jersey will pay on a 50-50 basis for the planned bituminous concrete asphalt covering for the path. "In Kingston, the state just leveled the old tow path."

The liability of the landowner was questioned. Mr. Sander replied that the landlord "is not liable unless he participated in the continuance of a dangerous condition on the path."

A discussion for the need for "bicycle manners" led into comments on public education.

"Implementation is the great hurdle," Mr. Walker commented.

"Citizens of all ages need to be educated concerning the laws, the ordinances governing use of bicycles. There is the possibility of registration of bicycles, the licensing of riders, and policing . . ."

Three-Wheelers, Too. Mrs. Mae Rockland spoke up for a group who ride tricycles. "I am one of a small group that rides three-wheelers," she said, " and we vociferously want wide curb cuts." She said that the elderly are beginning to use the three-wheelers.

Maps of the proposed plan are available at the Regional Planning Board Office.

STATE APPROVAL WON

For $6.9 Million School Plan. Plans for a $6.9 million secondary school for the West Windsor-Plainsboro district have won approval from the state.

Bids for construction of the 1,350 pupil school will be awarded in mid-June, Dr. John Hadden, school superintendent announced. Bids for bonds financing the school, which will be located on land bounded by the Princeton-Hightstown and Clarksville roads, were received this week at a special school board meeting.

Early Deadline Set

PHS Long Range Plan

dined by 12 to 15 people each year until 1977.

- The superintendent should provide more leadership.
- Princeton High should have a "house" plan of organization, an "open campus" (giving more student freedom); at least one third of its students in independent study for about half their time; a tuition free summer school for both the able student and the one who needs help.
- The whole town should serve as a "classroom," with various public and private facilities providing space.
- The board should work at the state level to have New Jersey's tenure laws eliminated. Long range renewable contracts, possibly for five years, could be substituted.
- Until then, no more than one third of all full-time teachers should be on tenure.
- Budgets for current expenses should be tied to tax yields from additional rateables in the community.

Mr. Selden is well aware, he told the board Tuesday night, that people in town are chiefly interested in whether the committee would recommend high school renovation, or construction of a wholly new building.

But, he said, the committee feels there are "other more important issues," and he mentioned the establishment of goals for the school system, curriculum development, student growth and welfare, the role of faculty and other school personnel and so on.

The Broad Objectives. In fact, the committee's report doesn't even get to a recommendation on the high school building until "Recommendation II." The first "Recommendation I" is that the board define the broad objectives of the Princeton system.

The committee would like teachers to develop many different ways of reaching whatever goals the board sets up. "Pluralism," says the report, "should be the hallmark of Princeton Regional Schools."

"Pluralism" means different approaches to education, like the new Learning Community that will be started next fall in the high school.

The committee thinks there has been too much "either/or" thinking between people who have different ideas about education. The fact is," the report says, "very little objective evidence exists to show that one approach or another is clearly better or worse for ALL students."

Learning How to Learn. As a starter for the board, the committee states its belief that the "basic intellectual goal . . . should be learning how to learn, how to think for oneself."

Education should be "process education," that is, emphasis on analytical thinking and problem-solving and less emphasis on memorizing facts.

Basic skills are more important than ever because society is changing so fast, the report says, adding ruefully that "too many students are graduated deficient in the basic skills of the three R's. . . .

With curriculum uppermost in mind, the committee asks the board to start this summer setting up committes to make major, school-wide curriculum review during the coming academic year. Teachers, students, administrators, citizens—all might serve on these curriculum committees.

The long-range group likes the idea of various committees, in fields like finance, construction and so on, consisting of board members and citizens working together. One of the committee's final recommendations is that the board make a policy of appointing sub-groups like this, perhaps to remain in office for only a year, make a report and then disband.

Guide Lines Offered. Although the long range committee urges curriculum study, it has some suggestions of its own on curriculum:

Timetable

1971-72: "Intensive educational planning," plus consultation with the architect who will do the PHS renovations.

1972 - 73: Architectural drawings and construction estimates should be obtained, and the school board should make arrangements for a bond-issue election.

Summer of 1973: Beginning of interior renovation, and possibly of the new additions as well.

Fall of 1974: Completion.

The architects say that classes can continue all the time renovations are in progress. With that recommended time-table at hand, the next moves are now up to the board.

President Robert Bierman said on Tuesday that the board might begin soon to appoint the board-citizen committees recommended by the long range group.

NO DRIVER'S ED.

Voted Down Again. Driver's ed., that symbol of school board-administration conflict, rose again Tuesday night from the ashes of its last defeat.

It was beaten again, this time by a 4-4 tie. Legally, a tie is the equivalent of a defeat. Voting in favor: Hannah Fox, Philip Cruickshank, William Marvel and Winthrop Pike. Voting against: C. George Fitzgerald, Evelyn Geddes, Henry Powsner and Robert Bierman. Absent: Mrs. Kathleen Edwards.

Superintendent Philip E. McPherson in a lengthy report, told the board he, the Administrative Council and the teachers couldn't find any budget money for driver's ed.

Mr. Pike, Dr. Bierman and Dr. Cruickshank underscored the town's keen interest in driver's ed., and Mr. Pike said "We should try to find the money."

Training Required. From the audience, former Princeton High School principal Florence Burke reminded the board that state approval for such a course would be needed, and teachers would have to be trained. A training workshop is held in June, so a deadline impends.

At this point, Dr. Marvel spoke with some irritation of the defeat of driver's ed. a few months ago and, prodded by Dr. Bierman, introduced all over again a motion to set up the course, funding it with money from the reserve fund, if no other source were possible.

This alarmed Dr. Bierman who said yes, he wanted driver's ed. but did not favor dipping into reserve funds. "It would be fiscally irresponsible," he declared, and asked Dr. Marvel if he'd amend his motion to eliminate any question of reserves.

How much is in the reserves? Dr. McPherson estimated $200,000-plus, Mr. Pike $300,000-plus, and the superintendent added, "That surplus is the result of fiscal responsibility."

"It must be married to public responsibility," Dr. Marvel retorted, "and that is higher than fiscal responsibility. I decline any amendment to my motion."

He commented on a proposed summer workshop for the staff on "Governance in the schools" and said, "That's in the sub-basement of priorities below driver's ed."

Dr. McPherson said the budget axe had chopped that one down, too, so there won't be a "Governance" workshop this summer.

Mr. Fitzgerald said he wanted driver's ed. along with everybody else, but felt it would be a bad precedent if the board started initiating courses, and so he voted "no."

Fifty Acceptances. Of the 216 students invited to participate in the new Learning Community, 50 have accepted, reported Acting Principal Alfred Seitz. The total of about 200 students has been made up from the list of volunteers, he said. A faculty is now being chosen.

The schools want to expand the Middle School's Stokes State Forest excursion into an "environmental project" for all grades next fall, preferably using the woods next to Johnson Park School.

For this reason, the board has written to Township Mayor James A. Floyd recording its unanimous objection to sale of the wooded, Township-owned Open Space plot to Seward Johnson.

If the parcel is sold, the board wants an alternate site where a simple structure could be built to house toilets, drinking water and so on.

The board unanimously approved the final application for Federal Title III money for the program that used to be called "Summer in Engineering" and is now called merely "Summer."

It is a three-year cooperative program with Princeton University, starting with a $40,000 grant for the first year, $42,000 for the second and $32,000 for the third. No local money would be required for the first year; however, the board would be expected to contribute $3,000 the second year and $11,000 the third.

Although the program originally was developed for black students, it will now be integrated. About 36 Middle School youngsters, boys and girls, will be chosen to participate this summer, continuing the work into the regular school term.

Board members and audience questioned the cost (Mr. Pike compared the Princeton schools' $1,400 per pupil cost for the whole year to a $780 per pupil cost for only the summer.)

J. F. Abel of the University's engineering faculty, said the University has already sliced in half its usual charge for using facilities, and is only changing $8,167. He added that the program is a training device for the teaching staff, and also provides teaching experience for the undergraduates who will work with the Middle School youngster.

"It is alarming that we examine in such a way this kind of program, designed to help kids who are having educational problems, and not examine other programs," commented Dr. Constance Vieland, the schools' coordinator for staff development. She said "Summer" will have benefits that "spill over" into other areas of school experience.

In other business, the board announced the retirement of Mrs. Irma Hollis, who has taught third grade in Princeton since 1933.

WARM WEATHER AHEAD: The pool behind Borough Hall was re-filled Monday for the 1971 hot-weather season. Architects designed the pool for a double life: it's the "cooling tower" for the Borough Hall air-conditioning system and, with its gently splashing fountains and landscaping, a refreshing place to spend a lunch hour. That's Miss Penelope Edwards secretary in the Borough Adminsitrator's office, enjoying a mid-day break.

"We Care"

Yes, said school board president Robert Bierman to his audience Tuesday night, the school board DOES pay attention to all those letters and phone calls.

"We on the board ARE aware and are trying to deal as quickly as possibly, with things you are concerned about," he said.

The high cost of a public school education, discipline in the schools, out-of-date curriculum, driver's ed., key faculty that are leaving out of dissatisfaction ("but good ones are satisfied and are remaining,") —all these are subjects for board concern, Dr. Bierman said.

And he added, eyeing his audience, "We need your help, and we may ask you for it."

CHAIRMAN: William K. Selden has served as chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Long Range Planning.

PHS Long Range Plan

● At the high school level more students should be allowed to take courses at the University for credit.

● The Home Economics department might embrace a publicly supported Day Care Center. Students could learn about the development of young children, and working mothers would have a solution to the child care problem.

● All students should be exposed to some kind of vocational education. The present work-experience program should be expanded, and students enrolled in the vocational programs should be advised to consider "a wide and deep academic program," just to keep open all the options for future careers.

● Extra-curricular activities are suffering under the current situation. Athletics are "almost tragic," the report says. The long range committee feels that, unless the money can be found for an adequate athletic program for all students, varsity sports should be dropped.

● Regarding younger students in the school system, the committee says the board should continue "careful experimentation" with the present open classroom British Infant School system, requiring further evaluation of just how successful it is for Princeton.

● Middle School and High School students should be used as aides for younger children, as many are now. "Often the best way to learn is to teach," the report observes.

In fact, the links between learning, teaching and service are so important that the committee wonders whether some kind of service in helping another to learn, shouldn't be a requirement for graduation from high school.

● Vandalism is much too rampant," the report observes in an aside, and if students were expected to assume a much greater responsibility for taking care of the school buildings, "this social malaise" might be healed.

Leadership Essential. Turning to faculty and administration, the report employs its bluntest language.

The superintendent, his staff and school principals should provide "more leadership and direction. They should exercise greater responsibility and authority for decisions, and should be held accountable for them," the report declares.

"Neither the board nor the superintendent is blameless for what appears to us to be unnecessary friction."

Although the committee wants to see "administrative prerogatives" strengthened, it feels that "administrative authority has been undermined by the emergence of a powerful teachers' union. There is a question whether such authority can realistically be re asserted when many problem areas are subject to contract negotiations."

Robert Bierman, board president, says "undermine" is too strong a word, and he suggests that because of teacher power, "things just take longer."

Progress Prevented? Superintendent Philip E. McPherson acknowledged that he found difficulties, but he too modified the report's bluntness by saying "You might say that together, the administration and the teachers sometimes keep the system from moving forward."

Given the state's teacher tenure law, the report would like to see Princeton develop its own tightening mechanism.

For one thing, economies are necessary. The report recommends a staff reduced by 12-15 each year for five years. Since Princeton has a turnover rate of about 20% a year anyway, the report thinks this reduction can be made "in an orderly fashion."

The tenure question is related more, however, to excellence. This year, 29 of 34 teachers were granted tenure. The report recommends that only "a very small minority of third year teachers" receive tenure. And the overall staff should have only one-third of its full-time teachers on tenure.

Some of this group could be paid as much as $20,000 a year. This is financially possible since there would be many teachers in the first-and second year rungs with more modest salaries, and fewer teachers at the top of the experience ladder.

"If this one-third of the instructional staff were the best in the country, there would be no question of the quality of education in Princeton," the committee declares.

Definition Offered. Linked with this is "staff differentiation," and the committee recommends a study. "Differentiation" means assigning everyone from teacher aides to "master teachers" with teachers of differing talents and skills working at different levels.

For younger teachers, it is a kind of built-in in-service training, in which beginners learn from the masters while they teach themselves. It also provides a way of paying better salaries to better teachers without using the loaded description "merit pay."

Better Future? The long range report is a unanimous one from the 13-member committee. "Our differences were all reconciled," reports Mr. Selden.

Styling himself as an optimist, Mr. Selden says he hopes the committee's experience will have a salutary effect on the board.

"We've helped the board" he says with enthusiasm. "I anticipate a more effective school board now, with better board-superintendent relationships. I think our committee, too, can be a lightning-rod to draw whatever criticism the public has away from board and superintendent."

The report itself ends with this smiling admonition: "Perhaps above all else—let's keep our sense of humor."

The Right Answer

Hope your holiday
It fun.
The only rhyme for that
It "sun!"

Mindful of a number of predictions for sunny weather that had gone 100% wrong this spring, the Man took a careful look at the immediate future.

The sun will be a large part of the picture, he reported. Fair skies should be with us right through the weekend, but he hedged when reminded it's a three-day proposition.

However, the law of averages as working for the people. The normal amount of rainfall for May had reached these parts more than a week ago, so it might just remain clear until June arrives — which it will on Tuesday.

AFS Seeks Host Families

The Princeton Chapter of American Field Service invites Princeton area families to apply to entertain a foreign student who will be part of a bus-load arriving here July 5 from Indiana, where they have spent this school year.

They will stay in homes here from July 5 to July 9 and share a program of visits, educational experiences and fun. They are from many countries and will be on the first leg of their trip to their homelands after a year in the United States. Interested families should contact Douglas Coulter at Princeton High School or Mrs. Joan Baker at Princeton Day School by June 5.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

A Memorial Day For the People in Princeton

"WHERE IS AARON BURR'S GRAVE?" and "Where is John O'Hara buried?" are two frequently-asked questions at historic Princeton Cemetery. Above is Col. Burr's grave, marked with an upright tombstone and flag at the foot of the tomb of his father, the Rev. Aaron Burr, a founding trustee and early president of Princeton University. The tomb of another president, Jonathan Edwards, is adjacent. O'Hara's grave is not too far beyond. A cemetery tour will be held at 4 on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William K. Evans of First Presbyterian Church as guides.

Beyond the wrought iron gate at the end of quiet, tree-lined Greenview Avenue lies a walk into Princeton's past — the last resting place of its famous men — and their quiet wives — its near-famous and unknowns through a period of nearly 225 years.

The old cemetery is fresh and green, under the flowering trees, aloof from the traffic sounds on Wiggins and Witherspoon streets. A student in a red plaid jacket asks a man on a mower where is Aaron Burr's grave. Legionnaires come to plant American flags.

The sun warms the tombstones of Claytons and Skillmans, and Duffields, Marshes, Hinksons, Hulits, Maples, Stocktons, Poes, Fields, so many, many more. You find yourself talking to them in your mind.

"Mary, 6" is all that fingers can gentle trace on a small marker. Mary, you have two sisters here. What was it, little girl? Some disease that children don't have any more?

Civil War Veteran. "John V. H. Quick, Co. D. 31st Reg. N.J. Volunteers." Born in 1836, you were a member of the Civil War's Grand Old Army, living until 1915.

What did you think of the draft riots in New York? What would you think of today's demonstrations? Are they so different?

"Anna Maria, daughter of (blurred) and Mary Scudder, who died November 1861, aged 14 years." Now, what could have happened to you at such a lovely age; what carried you off?

A racking cough and a fever with only a mustard plaster to make you well? Or did you do some darn fool thing like climb the shed roof and fall?

The Classical Age. There's a flourish of fine Latin on the tomb of the prestigious John Witherspoon, eminent divine, president of Princeton University, signer of the Declaration of Independence. The college was a hot-bed of Whiggery in your day, Dr. Witherspoon.

We know you sometimes put your recalcitrant students to work on your farm, but what would you do with the students of today, Dr. Witherspoon? It would be a test of your mettle.

"Sincerely Good, Fervently Pious" is written on the tablet honoring your first wife. How many husbands would say that today? What would she think of "Women's Liberation?" The wigmakers are back in business in this generation, as in yours, Dr. Witherspoon, and the horse is making a comeback, people still get the gout, and we still fret about Congress.

A robin's egg on the path between the graves pine cones below a fir tree, and beyond, the imposing statue of Paul Tulane, founder of Tulane University in New Orleans. You tower over everyone else in the cemetery, sir. This must have caused a flurry among the shades.

A Family Plot. An old and tilted tombstone honors "Jemima, wife of George Cudjoe. Died September 7, 1888, aged 87 years. Then there's "Charles Cudjo (the spelling is different), B 1815, D 1861," and close on, lies a tiny slab "In Memory of Josephine, daughter of Charles and Eliza Cudjo."

We wonder who you were, you Cudjoes. Quiet people? Was Charles a drover, a tradesman, a manservant, a farmer? There's no telling.

And Cato Mosier, who died on March 17, 1856, at the age of 60, was outlined 24 years by "Hetty his Wife." That's a long time to be a widow, Hetty. You were, let's see, you were born in 1798 so you were 58 when Cato died.

You saw the Delaware & Raritan Canal built. So did he. It must have made the town more alive.

Here are the two Clayton boys who served in World War I: "Pvt. Henry H. B. Clayton, b. Nov. 23, 1894, d. Feb. 9, 1919" and "Jessie S. Clayton, N. J. Ambulance Corps, b. 1889, d. 1957." What kind of a wound was it, Henry, or was it an epidemic at camp? You two were around when they dredged the Millstone to make Carnegie Lake; you were schoolboys then, and probably sneaked off to swim at the reservoir.

"Nettie Skillman, wife of T. C. Jones. Born in Princeton August 27, 1845, died in Chanutek, Kansas, September 16, 1879." Women were known to lose their minds in the lonliness of the prairies, in those days but you seemed to have stuck it out. Well, what was it? A last-ditch Indian raid? Childbirth? Your sisters are buried here, Margaret and Amanda. We like to think they came often.

Rows and rows of markers — some fine marble, some barely decipherable native stone. Princeton people, from 1756 to today.

"SLEEPING BEAUTY" The leading role of Princess Aurora will be danced by Natalie Huston in Saturday's Princeton Ballet Society production of the Tschaikowsky classic. Daniel Frohman has been cast as the Prince. (Jim McDonald Photo)

News Of The THEATRES

BALLET READY

"Sleeping Beauty." A full-length presentation of Tschaikowsky's classic ballet "The Sleeping Beauty" will be given two performances this Saturday in McCarter Theater.

A late morning performance at 11 a.m. will be followed by a matinee at 2:30. Remaining tickets are on sale at the McCarter box office.

The Princeton Ballet Society, under the direction of its founder Audree Estee, is the producer and 366 young students of the Society constitute the cast.

Natalie Huston will star in the leading role of Princess Aurora and Daniel Frohman will dance the part of the Prince. Both are members of the Princeton Reginnal Ballet Company.

David Drummond of the Boston Ballet Theatre will be guest artist, performing with Dorothy Pettit Alonso, Regional Ballet soloist, who will be seen in the role of the Blue Bird.

Other principal dancers will be Joyce Stahl as Carabosse, the wicked godmother; Christina Klotz as the Lilac Fairy, attended by Barbara Wagner and Linda Edwards, and Fairy Godmothers Cathy Biewener, Virginia Hepburn, Jill Lerner, Robin Tanteum, Sharin Terry and Diana Zeydel.

SWAN LAKE OFFERED

By Guerard Ballet School. The Guerard School of Ballet in Pennington will present Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake ballet Saturday, June 12, at the Hopewell Valley High School in Pennington.

A 15 year-old sophomore, Kathy Strayhorn will be the Swan queen. While in Russia last spring, she saw Swan Lake performed by the Lenningrad Ballet Company and last summer she studied for seven weeks at the Svetlova Dance

FILM RATINGS

A Matinee for ALL THE FAMILY will be playing on Saturday, May 29, at the Princeton Playhouse at 2:00 P.M. The Film, Those Daring Young Men in Their Jaunty Jalopies received an "entertaining for all ages" from Parents' and is an on-the-ground sequel to "Those Daring Young Men in Their Flying Machines."

"GIMME SHELTER" received a "no" for young people and children by Parents' — they say in part "mindlessly exploits footage of an actual murder."

"Little Murders" is rated "R" — no one under 17 admitted without parent.

Center. She will study ballet this summer at Jacobs Pillow in Lee, Mass.

Daniel Rubin (the Prince), is a 17-year-old junior at Princeton High School who has been studying ballet for the past six years. Last summer he appeared in a ballet festival in Canada. The company comprises 24 young dancers from the advanced division of the Guerard school.

TRIANGLE TO RETURN

For Two June Reunion Shows. The 1971 Princeton Triangle Show "Cracked Ice" will return Friday, June 4 and Saturday, June 5, for two more performances. This year's show won praise from many who saw the April performances, and Triangle veterans regard it as the best in years.

The production is a revue which capitalizes on a modern "story theater" style to entertain. There are virtually no props, special effects or fancy scenery.

In their place, Director Milton Lyon has drawn upon hte energy and vitality of the student cast to create the atmosphere for each of the 22 sketches. "Cracked Ice" is a new direction in Triangle Club history.

The show is the original work of Princeton undergraduates, who have stressed the reality they see in their own world. The old didactic attitude of heavy satire and sharp political jabs is gone. Instead, Triangle offers an evening of entertainment, song, dance, and pleasant merry making.

"Cracked Ice" explores the joy, sadness, elation, and sorrow in the life of a Princeton undergraduate. Among those appearing in the performance are 16 co-eds, a number of whom help form the famous Triangle "kick-line."

INTIME WILL OPEN

For Summer Theatre. For the fourth summer, the undergraduates of Princeton University's Theatre Intime will operate "Summer Intime," and since the previous three summers have been nicely successful, the 1971 "Summer" plans to follow the same program.

There will be four plays in repertory, presented four nights a week from Thursday, June 24, to August 16. A film Series will be held twice a week and there will be three or four performances by the Summer Intime Children's Theatre.

Those who would like to be on the mailing list may write Summer Intime, Murray Theatre, Princeton.

AN EVENING OF DANCE

From India, at McCarter. The Association of Indians in America will present a single performance of "Dances in India," Saturday, June 12, at 8:30, at McCarter Theatre.

"Dances in India" offers a varied program which includes traditional classical and folk dances from various parts of India. Among the highlights of the evening is the dance-drama "Shapmochan" by nobel laureate poet Robindranath Tagore.

CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERT

Thursday at Witherspoon School. The Westminster Choir will give a performance at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the John Witherspoon School auditorium. It is open to the public without charge.

The Choir is conducted by Dr. Elaine Brown, a graduate of Westminster, who is recognized as one of the outstanding choral directors in the United States. Dr. Brown is the founder and director of Singing City, a non-profit training and service organization in the Philadelphia inner city. Besides conducting the Westminster Choir, she administrates the Singing City program and conducts three core choirs there.

Founded in 1920 by Dr. John Finley Williamson, who directed it until 1958, the Westminster Choir is one of four choirs at the college - the primary touring group. The choirs 40 members are chosen annually from among West minster's upperclassmen.

Considered by many to be one of the finest choral ensembles in the world, much of its uniqueness is due to the sheer vitality of the choral tone. Dr. Williamson, and the conductors of the choir since he retired, achieved a softness that was controlled rather than devitalized, feeling that the most subtle passage should be alive and impelling

STUDENTS IN CONCERT

At St. Andrews. Piano students of Robert Halley will be presented in concert Thursday at 7:30 p.m., in the choir room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Students performing are Sara Augustine, Melissa Baggitt, Steven Barczay, Steve Beck, Erol Beytas, Michael Chaykowsky, Kathryn Dodson, Scott Field, Lenore Fisher, Dudley Fitzpatrick, Joanne Gilarmo, Rick Gilarmo, Peter Goldstein, Holly Jones, Mindy Jones, Gerry Liaggi, Nanette Liaggi, Dr. Kenneth Negus, Nicky Negus, David Rosenbloom, Katie Sanborn, Randy Sutton, Clifford Wight, and Margret Wight.

The public is invited.

In Tagore one finds that rare human being, a whole man — part artist, part teacher, part god, but mainly a warm human being. Tagore, as other great men, cannot be conveniently reduced to a solgan or cult. Like Beethoven or Da Vinci, he proves that the poet in his ivory tower, the educator sharing his knowledge and experience, the painter transferring his vision in color and shape, the musician in touch with the depth of heart and soul, the humanist compassionate and deeply understanding of his fellow men — these many attributes, rather than being mutually exclusive, are in truth mutually strengthening and enriching.

PRINCE and TRENT

Red Sky at Morning (now playing) tells with humor and insight the experiences of young Joshua when he moves from Alahama to a small town in New Mexico during World War II. Engagingly played by young Richard Thomas, Joshua develops a friendship with Steeny (Desi Arnaz Jr.) a Mexican boy, and with Marcia (Cathy Burns).

Richard Crenna plays the role of Joshua's father who has enlisted in the Navy and Claire Bloom is his ineffectual mother. There are moments of high tension when the boy is victimized by a punk killer and again at the occasion of his father's death. Cursing, sex and nudity are well handled within the context of the story.

GARDEN

Gimme Shelter (now playing) Some 300,000 young people turned out for the Rolling Stones free concert at the Altamont Race Track near San Francisco, and the film is based upon footage from that event.

At Altamont, violence and general disorders halted the show many times, four people died, and the Hell's Angels, on the scene to serve as policemen, acted as boorishly and erratically as they accuse the police of being. Much of the footage is as gruesome as your evening news report. There's even an on-film, unstaged murder.

The Maysles Brothers, who won critical acclaim for their "Salesman" in 1968, have employed an interesting device for "Shelter" by showing Mick Jager watching on film the same scenes we are viewing. These movie-within - a - movie moments come closest to revealing Jager's feelings.

You see the drugs, the camping out, the lovers and the fighters, the people with kinky clothes and none at all. But foremost are the Rolling Stones and their music. The Jefferson Airplane music is interrupted by disorderliness, and Tina Turner is seen in an all too-short sequence.

PLAYHOUSE

Little Murders (now playing) Elliot Gould is the photographer who tries to come to terms with the hazards of the city — power failures, foul air and snipers who bushwack the pedestrians.

Alan Arkin directed this adaptation of Jules Feiffer's satirical play. The film, uneven though it may be, has some brilliant sequences introducing the eccentric characters.

A few words from Phil Cane on behalf of cheating at antiques.

There are two ways of getting the antiques you've always wanted: find them or make them. Our way is to make them. For several reasons. We can concentrate on museum-quality pieces. We can coordinate them with upholstered pieces and hand crafted accessories. And we can create custom pieces to match your particular dream. (Thomas Jefferson didn't own a stereo. But you can own one that he'd like the looks of.) We've filled a showroom with creations and re-creations you'd like.

Hutch table. Colonial answer for crowded apartments. A triple-duty beauty: top down, it's a table; top up, it's a seat; under the seat, you get storage.

Only $120.

IT'S NEW To Us

DAVIDSON'S REOPENS With Special Bargains. Davidson's Supermarket on Nassau Street reopened Monday with and interesting batch of specials in the offing for this weekend. Closed five long weeks due to fires which broke out on the first floor and in the basement, Davidson's is now repaired and refurbished. It looks very bright and fresh.

The new floor is an attractive green; the walls are a soft yellow and green and there's light paneling above the front windows. The manager's booth has been changed around; thhe long shelves on the bakery side have been deepened and the meat department has a new look.

Everything in the store is fresh. The basement fire melted th copper tubing for the refrigeration units, and awesome quanitites of meats and defrosted foods were hurried at the dump.

All last week bypassers poked their heads in the open door and asked when would the store re-open. Their marketing habits have been seriously dislocated. When told Monday was the day, everybody answered, "That's good!"

For a look at the opening week specials at Davidson's, see their advertisement, pages 27 through 30.

NATURAL VITAMINS At Thorne's. "For at least a year, customers have been asking us if we carry natural vitamins's," Everett E. Campbell of Thorne's Pharmacies said last week. "We located a responsible supplier five months ago, and our order has only now come in. He had outsold his capacity to deliver. . . .!"

You get a variety of opinions on vitamins, whether you're discussing pills or food techniques. Now that natural vitamins have been added to the chemical vitamins, the debate widens.

For those who want to take vitamins derived from natural sources, Thorne's Pharmacies, located on Nassau Street and in Princeton Junction, carry the "Nature-Vite" brand. Vitamin C, for instance, is made from rose hips; Vitamin A from fish liver oils.

Vitamin C is derived from the orange pulp after the juice has been extracted for the frozen juice industry. Citrus pulp is a source of bioflavonoids, which help prevent capillary frogility—those spider web varicose veins in the hands and legs. Vitamin B, of course, is yeast concentrates, and the natural Vitamin E is usually from wheat germ oil.

BACK IN ACTION: Davidson's Supermarket on Nassau Street opened on Monday, five weeks after it was badly damaged by fire. It all looks better than new.

There is a "Super Hi-Protein" formula in the Nature-Vite pills derived from gelatin, milk solids, soy beans, and so on. Then there's an anti-stress formula of B Complex plus C, to help you comeback from debilitating illnesses like pneumonia or heavy colds or from surgery.

No matter which side you are on in the natural vs. chemical vitamin debate, take heart from a professor of pharmacology, "Medicine sometimes cures, frequently alleviates and always consoles."

MR. MORT CUTS And You Sew. Clothes from Mr. Mort are in the $50-and-up bracket, usually, but you can cut the price in half. If you like to sew, that is.

We went into the Reynolds Shop on Delaware Avenue, Pennington, and found an interesting collection of designs by Stan Herman of Mr. Mort packed away in chic little boxes, each complete with pre-cut fabric, thread, zipper, covered buttons, tape and, when needed, lace. Also a Mr. Mort label to display. The sizes run from 5 through 14.

The seam allowances are very generous to help you with fitting problems. Every piece of fabric is keyed to the sewing instructions. The embroidery required on several of the designs is already worked for you.

The choice includes a soft cotton dress in an antique print spaced out with vertical bands of sky blue. There's a wide ribbon belt of deep mauve, and a long ruffle at the hem. The lace in the kit goes at the shallow neckline ($27) It's a very sweet dress for a party. Another design combines red-and-white gingham midriff top with blue short shorts. The white embroidery all over the front of the shorts is happily completed.

A denim look set of pants and top comes in navy blue with white cross stitch worked in the deep yoke under the tailored collar, and repeated at the cuff of the long sleeve ($26.) In gingham check, overworked in red cross stitch, a long deeply flounced dress with a rolled tiebelt high on the midriff. Short, gathered sleeves and a deep front neckline complete the peasant girl look.

Another outfit features the gathered skirt in three tiers, with a wide, wide band of embroidery at the waist. And to go with several of these designs, the Reynolds Shop has imported espadrilles from France, in many colors, and each with a bit of embroidery over the toe. ($6)

ART
In Princeton

LATE SPRING SCENE

At Gallery of Fine Art. To qualify as a good painting, a landscape must take the viewer beyond the literal scene and reveal the artist's relationship with his subject. Using brushwork, color and a personal interpretation of form, the fine artist will make his own statement that will enable the observer to view the scene or the painting on several different levels.

Wolf Kahn has done just this in his collection of pastoral views in oil and pastel that are now on display at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art. The artist has been able to transcend his subject and create well designed space, and an exciting style without sacrificing any of the beauties of the landscape that inspired him.

In his cool, soft paintings, Wolf Kahn has borrowed from the Impressionists and then translated it into his own gently tinted view of the landscape. Barns, woods and fields are softly toned into color experiences with this artist's very personal palette.

Tints of purple, blue and greys predominate and are deftly combined with stronger warmer hues. Yellows and deep tones of red complement the cooler, gentler colors, yielding a richly toned landscape.

The artist's skill will paint techniques allows him to combine color and form in a most creative fashion. The paint is freely and somewhat expressionistically applied. However, the carefully developed color relationships and skillful brushwork take the vigorous and expressive painting style and make it work in a harmonious and poetic fashion.

The smaller pastel works that are also displayed embody all the qualities of Kahn's paintings. Except for the size and the sketchy effect that medium creates, the same sensitivity and creative approach is to be found.

CONTEMPORARY PRIMITIVE: Diana Mandel, with one of her paintings currently on view at The Artisan.

At Gallery 100. The Gallery 100 exhibit of Garden Art is a happy marriage of function and form. Things to look at, things to listen to and things to hold other things have been designed by several local artists and craftsman who have assembled this collection that combines with, or improves upon nature, depending on your point of view.

Ilse Johnson has created an exceptional collection of garden ceramics. Bells, singly and in groups, hanging planters, wind chimes and plaques demonstrate Mrs. Johnson's talents as a potter. These simple forms embody subtle differences in shape, color and glazed motifs which make this group of outdoor pottery a visually rich and exciting experience.

Byron Temple has included his larger hanging planters in this collection. The combinations of leather, rope and ceramics is most interesting.

Metal work of various types is included in the exhibit. Fine sculpture by Domingo Izquierdo contrasts with wrough iron weathervanes and lawn forms that are combined with glass. Wind chimes, forged on a blacksmith's anvil, complete with metal works.

Antique weathervanes, devices for displaying other articles and a range of interesting lawn decor items are included in this show.

At The Artisan. The current show at the Artisan displays the work of Diana Mandel. Mrs. Mandel is a very contemporary primitive painter in that her painting, while definitely primitive in style, contain today's familiar scenes and familiar people.

Large portraits of children are interesting in their differences as well as their similarities. Young girls, painted in the flat simple tones of the primitive, sit seemingly in front of the backgrounds.

While most of the backgrounds are simple and quite traditional, the artist surprises as with her painting of two girls on basement stairs. The combination of patterns in the background have been worked, albeit realistically, to give an impression similar to that of op-art.

Diana Mandel paints a range of subject matter and there is still life, landscape and seascape as well as figure painting. Her paintings have been included in many juried shows and exhibitions throughout New Jersey. They will be on view through June 19.

At Chiaroscuro. Fine drawing, when used as illustration, adds an extra dimension to its subject matter. The effect is reciprocal and a large collection of drawings with a central theme provides the viewer with several levels of visual experience.

The drawings of Rachel Folsom, currently on view at Chiaroscuro, were originally used as illustrations for "America's Ancient Treasure" by Franklin Folsom. This book, which is a guide to the archaeological sites in the United States and Canada, presents aspects of the older cultures of this continent.

Executed in pen and ink, with fine line and an eye for detail, this extensive collection portrays a range of artifacts, religious devices, tools, statuary and various apparatus for living that were employed by the ancient societies described in this series.

Street.

Arranged under auspices of Princeton's Afro American Studies Program and its Visual Arts Program, the show depicts what Mr. Moore describes as a "methodical meditation museum." He says the exhibit is designed, in part, to illustrate "that art can be made useful rather than keeping it in a museum."

Some 40 sculptures are in wood, bronze, aluminum and other materials. There are a pair of handmade meditation chairs as well as many items of ceremonial use. Some of more than 60 colorful paintings illustrate Mr. Moore's poetry.

The display is open to the public on weekdays from 2 to 4 through June 4.

PAINTING ACCEPTED For Juae Exhibit. Mrs. Eileen Shahbender, 107 Autumn Hill Road, has had her oil painting, "Aegean Village," accepted for the New Jersey Exhibition held annually at the Hunterdon County Art Center, Clinton. The show will be held from June 6 to July 3.

Mrs. Shahbender, a Princeton artist, has exhibited frequently with the Princeton Art Association Juried Shows, and is currently associated with The Artisan. She is at present teaching a class of Creative Paintings at the Rocky Hill Community Center, and also teaches oil painting at the Newcomers' Club.

COLKER JOINS STAFF Of Art Associatioo. Edward Colker, visiting Professor of Fine Arts, Bucks County College, will teach a class in printmaking at the summer session of the Princeton Art Association. Classes, which will begin the week of June 21 and run through July 29, will be listed in TOWN TOPICS next week.

A graduate of Philadelphia College of Art and of New York University, Mr. Colker has taught at Cooper Union School of Art and at the Graduate School of Fine Arts, University of Pennsylvania. He is a recipient of the Guggenheim Fellowship for creative studies.

The paintings and graphics of Edward Colker have been exhibited throughout the U.S.A. and Europe with six one-man exhibitions in New York, Philadelphia, and Washington. Recent prizes and distinctions include selection for the U.S. "Art-in-Embassiers" program; Noyes, Hunterdon, Coleman prizes (1967-69). "Stampe di due Mondi" Rome—U.S.A.; American Art Today, 1968.

Mr. Colker is represented in collections here and abroad including 20 museums. Among them are the Museum of Modern Art, N.Y.; Museum of Art, Philadelphia; Library of Congress et. al.; recent acquisition by State Museum, Philadelphia Museum of Art, N.Y. University of Fine Arts Collection, Governor Nelson Rockefeller and others.

Membership in the PAA is pre-requisite for enrolling in courses, but application for membership can be made at any time by mail or phone at the PAA office at 3 Spring Street.

BIGGEST FRAME: Helen Benedict of The Eye for Art, 7 Spring Street, with the shop's largest framing assignment. More than six feet high and five feet wide, Eye for Art is marking the anniversary of a successful Year One.

It's New To Us

REVIEWING A YEAR

An Eye For Art. Helen Benedict opened The Eye for Art at 7 Spring Street (between Witherspoon Street and Vandeventer Avenue.) just about a year ago with a supply of old prints, wood for frames, a graphics art business and some art supplies. Since then, the framing business has zoomed and the prints are all signed editions by an international group of contemporary artists working in Spain, Mexico, India, France, Japan, and, of course, the Princeton area (such as Margaret Johnson, Mae Rockland and Don Werden).

"The prints have trebled since I opened," Mrs. Benedict says, looking about the shop for space. "And Mae Rockland is going to Israel and will pick out some prints for me - they are doing great things there."

The framing is now done on the premises, with Mrs. Benedict lending a hand when necessary. "I'm really fascinated by framing," she says. "It took two of us to make a frame 6-ft 3-inches high by 5-ft wide. It was a job that two other galleries in town turned down. Because of the weight and size we had to us plexiglas."

She was intrigued by a problem of framing crooked tapestries, which was solved by straightening the tapestries. Another assignment was individual framing of 16 antique Dutch Tiles. "We've even framed a gun!" she laughs.

The trend in framing is simplicity where the Eye for Art customers are concerned, Mrs. Benedict points out two very new styles: simple black box frames, with a band of silver at the frunt edge. "These are gorgeous with graphics," she says happily. There are, we counted together, 152 types of frames posted as samples on the wall behind her work table.

"We're using a lot of box frames with liners even for oils," she noted, "and a few people are still using the ornate carved frames.

"People don't understand that it takes as much time to make a small frame as a large one," she adds. "It's the same amount of labor."

The Eye for Art has added a growing amount of natural art, ranging from geodes native copper and rock crystals to a necklace with a trilobite on the silver pendant. "A 500 million-year-old thing you can wear!" It has also added books on minerals.

"I think graphics go with natural art objects," Mrs. Benedict sums up. "Looking at art, you see things in nature that you never saw before - such as the sculptural quality of rock formations. This slice of agate - you can see this as a print - and the fosils, when you are right down to it, are prints in relief."

36 Tons Collected in Recycling Drive

The weather is getting better, but the recycling drive sponsored by the Conservation Coalition shows no signs of slowing down. A record 1,150 families participated in the fourth collection held last Saturday at the Faculty Road site.

They brought with them 18¾ tons of paper, 16½ tons of glass, 440 pounds of aluminum and 1,624 pounds of tin. It is worth noting, the Coalition reports, that because of the lightness of the tin, an increase of 100 pounds is quite an achievement. Overall the collection is up seven tons over last time.

Summer recycling days have been set for June 19, July 24 and August 21, and because of the vacation drain, the Coalition is seeking new volunteers, especially boys. Those who can help are urged to call Sally Groden 924-2404 during the day; 924-9057, evenings and weekends. The increase in number of families and material requires more volunteers than ever.

The Coalition reminds everyone to bring clean material, divided into tin, aluminum, bimetal, brown, green and clear glass. Newspapers must be dry and tied in neat bundles.

CHAIRMAN NAMED

At Princeton Red Cross. James T. Richmond, treasurer and business manager of Westminster Choir College, has been elected chairman of the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross for the coming year. Mr. Richmond is also president of the Princeton Public Library Board of Trustees and is a director of the Princeton United Community Fund.

Elected to serve with Mr. Richmond were: H. Lester Barlow, first vice-chairman; Mrs. Alan Tredennick, second vice-chairman; Walter Myers Jr., third vice-chairman; Mrs. Harris S. Colt, secretary; Melvin Davis, treasurer; and Albert J. Mennello, assistant Treasurer.

NIGHT SWIMMING OFF

Only Light Bid Rejected. There will be no night swimming at the Community Park pools this summer.

That was assured when the Joint Recreation Board last week unanimously rejected the $31,565 bid from Adams Electric Inc. of Trenton for the installation of underwater and overhead lights at the pool complex, on the basis that it was the only bid received. The bid was almost $10,000 more than the $22,000 which the consultants, who drew up the specifications, estimated the job would cost.

"One bid is not a good indication of what the price should come in at," commented R. Donald Barr, executive director of the Princeton Recreation Department. "If three or four had come in around $31,000 then I might have thought that perhaps our consultants were wrong. But I would like to have something to compare."

When asked by Dean Chace, Township Committee liaison to the recreation board, how much money was left in the bond ordinance for capital improvements, Mr. Barr replied $29,000. But from that, he pointed out, had to come $900 for new coping around the wading pool, funds for the installation of additional water meters and fees for the plans and specifications for the lights. "The absolute maximum left is $25,600; we just don't have the money to do it for 31,500," he said.

Why One Bid? Mr. Barr told the board that to insure a large number of bids they had advertised the job to every electrical contractor within a 20-mile area. To make it more attractive, it did not charge any fee for the specifications.

Eight contractors took the specifications, he continued. "As late as the last day it looked as if we might receive five bids," he said. But when the deadline to open them arrived - Wednesday at 4 p.m. - there was only the one. Not one Princeton electrical contractor had bid the job.

Mr. Barr asked his consultants, members of the firm who had built the pool, 'Why?' He was told that it was late in the season and that contractors might be concerned about having to leave their equipment at the pool site; that a 30-day penalty clause may have caused some to shy away; and that most contractors were tied up with work this time of year.

It was the advice of nearly everyone, Mr. Barr added, to go out for rebid sometime in August, to give the contractors time to do the work when the pool is closed. "The bids went out at the worst possible time," agreed Sandford Reynolds, board chairman. "If we rebid it in August it will be more attractive then and perhaps we'll get a better price.

Race Against Time. "The board would have loved to do it (install the lights) but it was a race against time and we ran out of days. We just don't have the money for the bid." Mr. Reynolds also pointed out that sixth graders in the school system which normally have swim classes this time of year have been denied use of the pool because the board had to keep it empty, until the lighting had been resolved.

"I can't think of anything we could have done differently, aside from the timing," Mr. Barr observed.

A proposal to install only underwater lights ($18,500) was rejected. The lump bid for underwater lights would provide only the minimum number of lights to get by, Mr. Barr cautioned. "Doing it piecemeal is not the best way," agreed Martin Lombardo, Borough Council liaison to the board.

PBS Situation Disturbing.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is our understanding that on Monday, May 17, Dr. McPherson announced to the administrative personnel of the Princeton Regional School system that he had presented a proposal to the School Board recommending a major change in the status of the High School Guidance Department. Under the newly proposed plan, the department would be administered by a Chairman of Special Services in the High School and a head guidance counselor. No longer would Mr. George Petrillo, a capable, concerned, and truly dedicated administrator be the Director of Guidance.

In addition, our high school principal, department chairmen of English and History, highly respected by students and parents alike, have resigned in recent weeks. In light of these developments it would seem advisable and infinitely worth the Board of Education's time to invite these dedicated key educators who have resigned for personal reasons, or who are being confronted with drastic changes in their departments, to state their reasons and opinions before the Board in private session.

Speaking for the majority of deeply concerned parents, still believing in discipline guidelines and academic excellence for their children, we feel the tenor and climate in the High School currently in indeed disturbing and unsettled. We strongly urge invitations for the before-mentioned interviews be extended — as they could prove most revealing for our elected School Board representatives.

Endorsement Clarified.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

In your report of the May 17 Princeton Township Committee meeting I was listed as being one of the endorsers of a Resolution, presented by Bart Hochel, favoring World Law and World Citizenship.

Although this seems like a Resolution worth favoring, I made no public statement about it.

I went to this Township meeting for two reasons. The proposal that Princeton join the Stony Brook Sewer Authority was on the agenda and I feel that it is of the utmost importance that an in-depth ecological research study be made by the planners before any construction be started on the proposed new Sewer Line. However, I made no comment on this either for there were already several excellent authoritative statements from the audience.

I did rise to ask Mayor Floyd "What progress has been made by the Committee regarding the Ordinance banning certain non returnable beverage containers?" This is an important issue. Just knowing that, for instance, the Bottling Industry projects that the production of all NON-returnable containers will break 100 BILLION by 1980 should cause everyone to feel concerned. And, as this matter has been before the Committee for several months, I was hoping for a somewhat more comprehensive answer than that which was given.

Recycling Successful.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The extraordinary effort that over 1,000 of Princeton's families put into last Saturday's recycling day deserves the thanks of us all. The volume increases, the enthusiasm grows and the long suffering and superb help lingers on until the last piece of glass is swept up from the collection point on Faculty Road.

A note of special thanks goes to the young people who have worked with good humor, adeptness and an unbelievable capacity for staying with a job. The adults working on this project could not have managed without the strength of purpose and commitment shown by every one of those young people contributing their time and energy so willingly.

Thank you Princeton community for your participation and your help

Don't Hoist the U.N. Flag
To the Editor of Town Topics:

How could any one desire that the United Nation's flag be flown on our Municipal Buildings?

"Old Glory" is my choice. I am proud of my country and thank God for it. Our past history and development is illustrious.

There is no other country under the sun which has such high ideals, freedoms and opportunities for all of its citizens, despite what all of its detraction may say against us.

The history and conduct of the United Nations has little to commend it. It has often aligned itself against our interests and is largely manipulated by our enemies. Each one might ask himself how much he would enjoy being a world citizen under the domination of Russia, main land China, and the so called emerging (more properly described backward) nations who greatly outnumber us in this organization.

We hope that our Municipal Fathers will take no such ill advised action as to fly the United Nation's as an American symbol over our public buildings.

W. DOUGLAS SMITH

UN Is Communist Oriented.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Residents of Princeton Township should derive encouragement from a recent act of the Township Committee. It refused to be taken in by a preposterous proposal of a seeming innocent, who did not know the gun was loaded. I refer to the suggestion that the United Nations flag be displayed on Township Hall.

The United Nations is a Communist outfit. It was created by Communists, aided and abetted by Socialists masquerading as Liberals. Its real purpose is to promote the Communist objective of World Government — a Socialist dictatorship.

From the standpoint of real world order and peace, it has degenerated into little more than an umbrella for perpetual war. Its total failure is recognized and openly discussed even by the thousands who carry on its machinations in the Glass Palace on the East River. Isn't it too bad that these poor souls have to labor under such handicaps as complete tax exemption — Federal, State, local, et al!

Concerned citizens would do well to ask whether this is another symptom of forces working behind the scenes in the Princeton community to foment strife and turmoil pursuant to the Communist strategy of arousing town versus gown. Are there organized efforts of the Communist United Nations and other subversive forces in New York to use faculty members, local politicians, borough councils, township committees, school boards et al., for ulterior purposes?

DUMP PROPOSED

For County's Solid Waste. An 800-acre landfill area where all Mercer County's municipalities could take their solid waste was proposed Saturday to the County Freeholders and County mayors by Day and Zimmerman, consultants hired by the county to figure out a better way for disposing of solid wastes than methods now in use.

A meeting has been set for June 12 and the suggestion will be discussed more fully at that time.

Freeholders and mayors also heard Township Mayor James A. Floyd suggest that municipalities hold off immediate action on banning non-returnable bottles and support a state measure which will be up for public hearing in the Assembly on September 22.

The consultants say that 793 acres will be needed for solid waste disposal during the '70s in Mercer County. No specific sites were mentioned, but observers have pointed out that East and West Windsor are almost the only areas that have so much land.

Landfill is the method recommended because it's cheaper than others. Pollution of the air and of sub surface water can be brought under control to meet state and Federal standards, the engineers believe.

The proopsed use of landfill for all the county's municipalities is a relatively short range suggestion only five to 10 years. The interval would give engineers a chance to observe developments in waste disposal and eventually pick the best for a permanent solution.

Princeton's present estimated cost of $10.75 per ton could be reduced to a maximum of $4.75, under the engineer's landfill plan.

FEW TURN OUT

To View Sidewalk Master Plan. Prepared for a crowd that never materialized the Regional Planning Board had three huge maps of its new sidewalk master plan tacked up last Thursday night, plus a sizeable pile of smaller maps ready to distribute. One or two would have been sufficient to accommodate the 12 people who came to view the board's work.

In a meeting lasting no more than 40 minutes, William T. Sutphin, Chairman of the Road Subcommittee, outlined the board's reasons for proposing 34½ miles of new walks, which will be constructed mainly in the Township.

Citing reasons of safety, Mr. Sutphin pointed out that many people are not drivers and as auto ownership increases, sidewalks should keep pace. In addition, the master plan, which he emphasized was just a "minimum" one based upon judgement of present needs and those of the immediate future, would be used as a reference tool by private developers, homeowners and municipal boards.

Mr. Sutphin also made the point that a large number of streets without sidewalks have been classified as "hazardous" for school children, thereby requiring that they be bused to school regardless of the distance involved. "Investment," in sidewalks might cause a reduction in current expenditures for bus transportation, he commented.

The Roads Subcommittee feels that a modest but continuing program of municipal sidewalk construction should be begun regardless of the amount of private construction, and suggests that the Planning Board begin a program of recommending sidewalk projects to Borough Council and Township Committee, the first to be included in the capital budget for 1972.

Minimum width of the walks would be four feet, except in the more rural sections where they would be also used as bicycle paths, and then be six feet wide. The plan suggests that asphalt be permitted in less densely populated zones in place of the more expensive concrete.

Some of the roads where sidewalks are proposed include Elm Road and the Great Road from Stockton almost to the Township line, Kingston Road to River Road; both sides of Rosedale to Johnson Park School, Mercer Road almost to the Township line; Stockton Street and Princeton Lawrenceville Road, Mount Lucas Road and almost the entire length of Cherry Hill Road.

The board noted that it would be up to Borough Council or Township Committee to decide in each case if the sidewalk construction would be a municipal expense, assessed against the property owners or split between the two.

Since many of the new sidewalks will be built on only one side of the street to avoid double construction costs, the board wants to put pressure on the state legislature to amend a New Jersey law which states that only those properties directly abutting the walk can be assessed. At present, property owners on the other side of the street from the walk pay nothing.

The board took no official action on the master plan, which must also be approved by Council and Committee, pending the outcome of the hearing on the bicycle paths.

SEVEN ARE FINED

In Township Court. Seven Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township Court by Judge Burton Peskin.

Frederica S. Stewart, 65, 82 Mountain Avenue, was fined $30 for leaving the scene of an accident. Fined $15 each were: Sonya R. Moss, 46, 5 Cherry Brook Drive, stop sign, Lynn M. Hoisington, 19, 9 Randall Road, failure to keep right at an intersection; Barbara R. Waaben, 38, 75 Clover Lane, failure to yield; and Mahadfuar B. Yelgar, 33, Princeton Motor Lodge, careless driving.

Chester Wooten of Trenton paid $30 for malicious mischief. He was charged with smashing the windshield of a car owned by Carlton S. Saunders.

Andrew Teague Jr., 97 Leigh Avenue, paid $50 each on two separate charges of assault. The complainants were Patricia Dodsen and Linda Jeter.

Borough Court. In Borough Court Monday, John W. O'Dea, 59, 141 Red Hill Road, was fined $60 and had his license revoked for six months for driving while impaired by alcohol. He pleaded guilty.

Passing a stopped school bus cost Enrique Tirapegui of Hibben Apartments, Faculty Road, $20, while Kim A. Coleman, 17, South Mill Road, Princeton Junction, paid $12 for a stop sign violation.

THREE CARS COLLIDE

One Man Hurt Seriously. A Princeton driver remains in Princeton Hospital in serious condition with head injuries, following a three-car collision Sunday on Route 206 and Arreton Road.

David Erdman of 33 Lilac Lane was admitted to the intensive care unit where Ptl. David A. Funk, who is investigating the mishap, has not yet been able to talk with him. The stopped car with no lights, is still under investigation.

A second car was driven by James J. Britt Jr., 24, of 7 Magie Apartments. Also in the car were his wife, Jane, 24, and James Britt Sr., 62, and Charlotte Britt, 53, of Trenton. Young Britt and Charlotte Britt were treated for minor cuts and bruises at Princeton Hospital.

A third driver, Angelo DiFloria, 59, 206 State Road, escaped injury. All three cars had to be towed away.

Cycle Passenger Hurt. An 18-year-old Hightstown youth was injured when the motorcycle on which he was a passenger collided with a car at 6:55 Saturday evening at Prospect and Olden.

Cameron Downy, of Twin Rivers Development, received eight sutures at Princeton Hospital for a cut on his chin. He also sustained a laceration of his left foot.

The motorcycle, operated by Richard L. Cruser, 21, of 67 College Road West, was struck by a small foreign car driven by university student, Thomas M. Swartz, 21 of Wilmington, Del.

Mr. Swartz, who was ticketed for careless driving, told Ptl. David Alston that he had started between two parked cars into the street from the drive of the Cap & Gown Club.

"I saw the motorcycle coming towards me. I tried to put the car in reverse but it moved forward and we hit."

$300 CAMERA STOLEN

From Parked Car. A camera and case valued at $300 were stolen Monday from a car parked in a Palmer Square lot.

Owner John Dunn placed the theft between 9 p.m. and 11 p.m. Police reported that a front vent window had been forced open to get the camera.

Al Ross, manager of the BP Service Station at 245 Nassau Street, reported the theft of a timing light during the week end.

He told police that the $50 tool had been removed from a car bay in the garage. Wires leading to the light had been cut, he said. There was no sign of forced entry.

A television set and record player were taken last week from the home of Jessica Smilowitz, 16 Quarry Street. Again, there was no sign of forced entry, according to Borough police.

A wooden packing case containing clothing apparel was reported missing from an entry of the Graduate College by its owner, Edward Annert, 113 Graduate College.

He told police that the 200-pound case had contained all his clothes to be shipped home.

NEW GYMNASIUM FOR PRINCETON DAY SCHOOL: Artist's conception of the new gymnasium to be built at Princeton Day School. The $345,000 structure will double gym space at the school, it was designed by J. Robert Hillier, Princeton architect.

Topics Of The Town

GYM PLANNED AT PDS

Work to Start in 30 days. A $345,000 contract for construction of a new gymnasium has been awarded by Princeton Day School to the Hand Company of Trenton.

The contract award marks the successful conclusion of the first of three phases of the school's capital development program, according to Edmund R. Beckwith, Jr., newly-elected chairman of the Board of Trustees. Construction of the gymnasium, designed by Princeton architect J. Robert Hillier, will begin within a month, Mr. Beckwith said.

Included in the contributions from parents, friends and alumni of the school were two major anonymous gifts; one an outright grant of $50,000, the other a challenge gift of $100,000.

The 800-student coeducational day school, largest independent school in New Jersey, has outgrown the capacity of its single gym, according to Headmaster Douglas O. McClure. The present facility was built six years ago when Miss Fine's School and Princeton Country Day merged to form PDS. There were at the time slightly over 500 students.

The addition of the second gym will allow greater flexibility in scheduling athletics, as well as greater opportunity to participate in sports and physical education, Mr. McClure added. The new gym will connect with the existing one.

Future objectives of the school's capital development program include a new Lower School building and endowment funds for faculty salaries and scholarships.

BIRTHS

Thirteen Born. Five boys and eight girls were born last week in Princeton Hospital.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lodge, 30 Dunbar Drive, Robbinsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Frank, 62 Covington Drive, Hightstown, both on May 16; Mr. and Mrs. David Brenner, 31 Princeton Arms, South, Cranbury, and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lewis, 58 Gardenview Terrace, Hightstown, both on May 18; Mr. and Mrs. William Sirignano, 172 Oak Creek Road, Hightstown, May 18; Mr. and Mrs. Duncan D. ### BARGE PARTY PLANNED

By YWCA. The YWCA will sponsor a second Family Barge Party, open to the public, on Sunday, June 13.

Guests will board the barge in New Hope promptly at 5:30 p.m. for the mule-drawn trip down the Delaware Canal.

The early evening party will include a program of folk singing and a stop at a picnic site for a "bring your own" picnic supper.

Reservations for the trip are requested at the YWCA office and transportation to New Hope will be provided for guests who request it.

HATFIELD TO SPEAK

At Seminary Commencement. Senator Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon will be the featured speaker at the 153th Annual Commencement at Princeton Theological Seminary. The ceremony begins at 10:30 a.m. this Tuesday in Princeton University Chapel. Approximately 200 will be awarded degrees by President James I. McCord.

Erdman Hall will be dedicated on Monday, Alumni Day, at an 11 a.m. service. William P. Thompson, stated clerk of the General Assembly is speaker. The building, named in honor of the late Rev. Charles R. Erdman and his wife, Estelle P. Erdman, is designed as a continuing education facility and dormitory.

TO DECORATE GRAVES

Of Veterans This Weekend. Princeton's two American Legion posts, 268 and 218, will place approximately 1,000 flags

How Much Longer Must Our Jersey Shore Remain A Free-for-All Sewage Dump?

AN OPEN LETTER to the ATTORNEY GENERAL of the UNITED STATES:

26 May, 1971

Hon. John N. Mitchell, Attorney General
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Mitchell:

As you may know, the Federal Food and Drug Administration several months ago declared off-limits for shellfishing two ocean areas totaling approximately 226 square miles on the outer Continental Shelf adjacent to New Jersey.

These two huge seabed areas were only last year providing a livelihood for New Jersey shellfishermen (many of whom are now unemployed) and fresh local shellfish for New Jersey consumers (who now must pay higher prices for a shorter supply of local shellfish).

The usefulness of these two seabed areas to the people of New Jersey has been destroyed as a direct result of massive ocean dumping of sewage sludge and other waste materials by New York City, Philadelphia and private industry in the shallow waters just outside the Three-Mile Limit of our New Jersey State jurisdiction.

Pirates of an earlier day were far less a threat to the health and welfare of our people than these modern predators of the high seas who with their sewage and poisons are destroying the very life of the ocean itself.

Are we helpless under present laws to prevent such depredations against our shores?

In answer to this question, I respectfully refer you to New Jersey Statute 2A:170-67.1, the text of which is as follows (emphasis is mine):

> "Any person who throws, drops or otherwise places any paper, bottle, trash, garbage, refuse or debris of any nature upon a highway or other public lands is a disorderly person."

Further references to United States Code Title 43, Sections 1331, 1332 and 1333 discloses that by Act of Congress in 1953 "The Constitution and laws and civil and political jurisdiction of the United States are extended to the subsoil and seabed of the outer Continental Shelf . . ." beyond the Three-Mile Limit of State jurisdiction.

Related case law discloses that, pursuant to these 1953 Acts of Congress, Federal authority has for many years been regularly invoked in Federal Courts to enforce both Federal and adjacent State laws on the Continental Shelf beyond the Three-Mile jurisdictional limits of oil- producing States on the Gulf of Mexico.

Our New Jersey Shore has no producing oil wells to protect under its outer Continental Shelf. But it has the remnants of what were once rich shellfish beds and what was once a thriving fin fish industry. And it still offers millions of New Jerseyans and out-of-state visitors recreational experiences which they happily travel long distances to enjoy.

Many prominent public officials, including Senators Case and Williams and Governor Cahill of New Jersey, have called for Federal legislation that would end ocean dumping — at least in the fertile shallow waters of our Continental Shelf. As a citizen of New Jersey, I have filed Civil Actions in two Federal Courts to test the legality of ocean dumping under present laws.

Meanwhile, destructive ocean dumping continues at an increasing rate and threatens irreparable damage to our New Jersey marine environment.

In light of the urgency of the situation, and on behalf of all Americans who love the Jersey Shore, I call upon you to take immediate steps to enforce, upon the Outer Continental Shelf adjacent to our Coast, our New Jersey anti-litter law 2A:170-67.1, in accordance with the provisions of United States Code Title 43, Sections 1331, 1332 and 1333 and Title 18, Sections 7 and 13.

This letter is being published on the above date in the newspapers named below. I will see that your reply, when received, is also published in each of these newspapers.

Sincerely,
Joseph M. Boyd, President

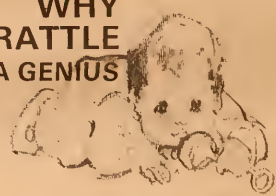
WHY RATTLE A GENIUS



Most babies have amazing capabilities — if given the opportunity to develop them. Dr. Burton L. White of Harvard experienced this during years of research with infants. He learned that they love to have toys that challenge them. That's why he has created the PLAYTENTIAL™ conceptions for a progressive new series of 12 fun toys scientifically designed to match baby's emerging skills. Now you can offer your baby this chance to realize his potential.

on graves of those who died in the nation's wars to mark the coming Memorial Day.

Cemeteries which the two posts will visit include St. Paul's, Princeton, Trinity All-Saints and West Windsor. In all, some 14,000 flags will be placed on veterans' graves throughout Mercer County.

The parade which the Legion stages annually will begin Friday evening at 7, forming at Princeton Avenue and proceeding along Nassau Street to Borough Hall and the Battle Monument. A brief ceremony honoring war dead will follow, with special tribute to the young men from this area who have lost their lives in the Vietnam conflict.

Seven bands will be in the line of march, as will numerous civic and patriotic organizations and municipal officials. The parade will be led by the 700th Air Force Band from McGuire Air Force Band, with other units from half a dozen central New Jersey communities.

FUN 'N GAMES

On Prospect Avenue. Borough Sgt. John J. Bellow Jr., investigated reports of vandalism on Prospect Avenue at 2:10 Sunday morning.

At an excavation site on Prospect, he found that someone had smashed the windows and let the air out of the tires of a front-end loader owned by the Agahiti Brothers Co. Warning fire pots were thrown into a pit.

In addition, two parked cars were moved and allowed to run into each other. Damage to the cars, owned by Mehrak Birjandi of Hopatcong and Angelina Baldino of Kingston, was slight. Both drivers had told police they had set their hand brakes and put the shift lever in park.

DE GRAZIA TO SPEAK

At PDS. Dr. Alfred de Grazia, founder and rector of the University of the New World, Valais, Switzerland, will speak at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, June 2, at Princeton Day School.

He will discuss the summer program and plans for the fall. The summer program begins on June 28. The meeting is open to prospective students, their parents, and to all interested individuals.

THREE CASES LISTED

On Borough Zoning Agenda. The Borough Zoning Board will hear three applications at its May meeting to be held Thursday evening at 8 in Borough Hall.

Nature's Best, 242 Nassau Street, turned down by the board previously over parking requirements when it tried to install eating facilities, will seek a waiver of deed restrictions for off-premises parking for a proposed resturant use. In its application, Nature's Best said that it planned to install a 16-seat restaurant area that would be used only after 6 p.m.

It proposes to provide eight off-street parking places on a year-to year lease basis. The spaces located within 75 feet of Nature's Best, on another property which the application did not identify. These spaces are not used after 6 p.m., the application said, so there would be no duplication of use.

Borough zoning laws require that such off-street parking be provided through a deed restriction and not by lease.

Nassau East, Inc., 245 Nassau Street, will seek a variance from the required distance between buildings.

The applicant wants to raise the roof line five feet to use the second floor of a small white building which is located next to a 'arger stone office building at the same address. The proposed change raises the average height between the two to 22 feet — increasing the non-compliance by two and one-half feet.

In a final case, Theresa Nini will seek a reversal of a zoning officer's ruling that the eating and drinking use at 16-18 Lytle Street has been discontinued. The property, vacant for years, used to house the OK Bar.

Failing to get a favorable interpretation from the board over the zoning officer's ruling, the applicant will request a favorable recomendation from the Board to Mayor and Council for a use variance that would permit the resumption of the operation of the bar.

Pools to Open Friday

The Community Park pools, which usually open the Saturday before Memorial Day, will open a day earlier this year — Friday, May 28.

The pools will be open all four days over the holiday weekend (Friday through Monday) from 11 to 7, but weekday rates will be in effect Friday only; holiday and weekend rates will be in effect the latter three days. Regular season hours from noon to 8 will begin June 14.

Princeton residents who wish to apply for a seasonal membership may purchase them in front of the pool during the next two weekends.

Princeton To Graduate First Married Couple

They met as Juniors in a Spanish class at Miami's Palmetto High School; they married four years later; next month they will become Princeton University's first husband-and-wife duo to receive bachelor degrees at the same commencement - Princeton's 224th which on June 8 misses their first wedding anniversary by 24 hours.

Sheldon J. and Virginia L. Axler are both 21; both math majors. They've taken only one course together here, however; and, when the time came to complete the same take-home final, they abided by Princeton's Honor System and didn't collaborate as each worked on the last in their neatly-furnished basement apartment at 80 Spruce Street.

"In fact our grades were so different that no one could suspect us of collaborating," remembers the young student-housewife. "He's a lot better at math that I am."

Sheldon came to Princeton (after graduating first in his Palmetto class of over 900) because he felt it had one of the best mathematics programs in the country. Virginia Wells went north to Bryn Mawr, an hour's drive from Princeton - more-or-less she admits, "in order to be near, well, Sheldon."

Parents Approved. When Princeton announced it was accepting applications from women two years ago, Virginia applied; broke the news gently to her parents; doubted she'd get accepted; and was surprised when both her parents and Princeton thought the change would be good for her.

"We would have waited until after graduation to get married, but when we were here on campus together we moved it up by a year," the couple reports. They were married last June 7 in Miami.

Sheldon J. and Virginia L. Axler, Princeton Seniors

Virginia, who had graduated ninth in her class at Palmetto, already had picked mathematics as a major before leaving Bryn Mawr College. But her field isn't the same as her husband's. If it helps to explain the difference, his senior thesis topic is on "Optimal Control Theory"; hers is in the area of partial differential equations ("no one would understand the title").

They didn't read each other's thesis until the day before the theses were due. "Sheldon's really a little ahead of me, and it is often strange working on the same problems on a test that he did earlier, but he never helps me." Virginia insists. "On homework, yes; on tests, no."

Two Years "Lost." Virginia who has shared in watching the progress of coeducation on this Ivy League campus, says her only regret is that she couldn't have enrolled at Princeton two years earlier.

When she used to visit - which was frequently - and attend a class, then physics professor and now Graduate School Dean Aaron Lemonick would inevitably begin: "Gentlemen . . .and lady. . . ." Then she became one of 150 women who entered (some as transfers) as undergraduates in the fall of 1969. On June 8 she'll be among some 40 women receive baccalaureate degress, along with approximately 770 men.

The Axlers still get two of everything from the University (they like it that way). They reside off-campus (but would rather live "on"), inasmuch as the University doesn't provide housing for married undergraduates. They are essentially self-sufficient, living on earnings, savings and scholarship help. And they find that the responsibilities of housekeeping and maintaining good academic records doesn't leave much free time.

Does it all change in June? Not realy.

Both will go on to graduate school to earn Ph. D.'s in mathematics. It will be at the University of California (Berkeley), where each has been accepted and where he has a major fellowship (but she doesn't).

"It would have been great if we could have found an area where we both could have gone to school on fellowships," reflects Sheldon Axler. "Virginia got a good offer from Rutgers, but New Jersey is a little too far from Berkeley."

ECOLOGY in Princeton

Lives, property, homes, water — all are undeniably important to us. We have police and fire departments to protect the first three, and we are fully aware of their existence.

Many of us are not aware of our local "Water Saving Department," the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, which is just as essential in a less obvious way as the other two organizations. With the knowledge that water quality is the broadest and most encompassing factor in environmental quality, the Watershed Association goes about the business of protecting and improving it in many interesting ways, including developing a training program for teachers. To carry on its essential work, support is urgently needed in the form of equipment and members. You can contribute without joining if you want, but membership brings pleasures that just giving money cannot. End of plug.

We would, however, like to describe an Association program that we find particularly fascinating, both as a member and as a parent. In line with its belief in the importance of focusing, rather than dissipating, energy in the fight against pollution, the Association has harnessed the traditional energy of the young in groups from three area colleges, 11 high schools and five Boy Scout troops into an "A-dopt - a - Stream," or Micro-watershed, program.

A watershed is the drainage basin of a big river system, into which flow the contributions of many tributaries. To clean up the river (and ultimately help the sea), it is necessary to find out what polluting contributions each tributary is making, starting at its headwaters and working all the way down.

"Adopting" a Stream. To do this, each student group adopts a tributary (among them, Princeton High — Harry's Brook, Hun — Stony Brook, Montgomery High — Rock and Beden's Brooks, PDS and Stuart — their apparently nameless neighboring brook). Then each group launches its investigation.

The first step is to take a preliminary survey of existing conditions, including: violations of the Sanitary Code, location of pipes emptying into streams, various types of land use, local and state laws affecting developments, shopping centers, factories, etc., setting up monitoring stations above and below each type of land use to determine its effect on water quality. Next the group meets with qualified adults to discuss the survey and identify the people available to assist in interpreting their findings and solving the problems. Interpreters might be engineers, biologists, industrial representatives, government agents, etc.; problem solvers can be sportsmen's clubs, recreational groups, area residents, or anyone with a personal or economic interest in the watershed locale under study.

The outcome of all this is a report pinpointing the sources of problems, broken down into four categories: 1) technically difficult matters such as industrial and municipal sewage, which are expensive problems requiring technically sophisticated approaches; 2) community solvables like service station dumping of oil into sewers, which is a major source of water pollution.

3) potential problems, such as unsuitable areas for building due to a potential for wet basements, poorly functioning septic systems, pot-holed streets and parking lots, spotted by use of soils maps;

4) problems needing more concentrated research, such as seasonal agricultural uses of pesticides and fertilizers, patterns of industrial dumping, results of winter street salting. Once the report is finished, it can be distributed to the proper groups for following up on the findings.

Impressive, isn't it? So are the things that are happening for the students who are part of the "Adopt - a - Stream" group. For openers: they are learning how to pinpoint pollution sources and develop a plan of action in their own back yards before venturing forth into the big wide world; they are learning how government works in this connection and that government is only as responsive as people make it; they are becoming environmentally literate citizens with a much-needed ability to see, not just bits and pieces, but the whole picture, a high usable faculty in all respects.

P.S. The winners of the first and second prizes in the recent environmental essay contest held by The Packet, Ellen Watson of Princeton High and Robert Roby of Hun are members of the "Adopt-a-Stream" group, and for $1000 and $500 in Savings bonds it turned out to be an extra-valuable membership for them!

Avoid Mercury. The U. J. Department of Environmental Protection has asked us to point out one easily avoidable "DON'T": do not use any chemical in your swimming pool that contains mercury.

Read the label on whatever brand you choose to see if it mentions the word "mercury" or any abbreviation thereof. Whether mercury is harmful to non-water-swallowing swimmers we aren't qualified to say; but pools eventually empty into tributaries and so on into fish and we certainly don't need more mercury from this unnecessary source.

What Is Bi Metal? We found ourselves in a quandary on Recycling Day; apparently many other recyclers had the same question, namely, how do you tell a "bi-metal" can from a tin one? (Supposedly we all know the seamless, non magnetic aluminum ones by now.)

We have the answer, and to help the hard-working volunteers avoid a job above and beyond the call on the June 19th Recycling Day — that of separating cans by the thousands — we are passing it on. Tin cans have a straight, unmarked seam down the side, are quite shiny and are generally used for food; bi-metal cans are duller in tone, have a "notched" or "dotted seam down the side, and are used primarily for beverages in cans that are not aluminum. How very much simpler it would be for all concerned if the same metal were used for all cans, or at the very least, for all beverages.

An item for the Every Little Bit-Counts Department. To quote Richard Saltonstall, Jr. in his excellent book "Your Environmental and What You Can Do About It:"

"The problems of waste management, pollution, land use, and so on, are so vast and complicated that altering one's individual habits may seem insignificant - even silly - when suggested as a solution. Why should you put bricks in your toilet when the man next door freely uses a hose, rather than a broom, to clean his driveway? The best answer, as suggested in another connection, is: if you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem. If you and I don't make a personal beginning, who will?"

As a firm believer in this view point and, we like to think, a practiser of what we preach, we went thoroughly chagrined recently to find ourselves one of five mothers in five cars picking up five little girls at the same school at the same time and transporting them individually to the same school in another part of town. How often have we urged think "is this trip necessary?" before using the car? Too often to have lapsed into such a state of pollution-unconsciousness!

We were amused by a comment of an acquaintance who, when asked en passant, if he still gardens, replied, "Not any more," then volunteered, "I'd never go in for that organic gardening thing — it's for the birds!"

So it is, was our reaction. For the birds, the animals, the fish, the good bugs, and us!

There IS a difference in Pools!
And that difference is quality
...whether Concrete or Aluminum.
Here are a few examples:

☐ LABOR SAVING AUTOMATIC FEATURES
All automatic pools are not automatic. Ours is. ACPS—Sylvan's Automatic Cleaning and Purifying system would rather do it itself. Even while you're in the pool swimming. ACPS is available in both Sylvan's UNIPOUR® Concrete, and All-Aluminum pools.

☐ TOUGH, NO MAINTENANCE FINISH
Or, in a word . . . PERMALON. Unlike marbledust plaster, PERMALON is resistant to staining and algae and since no annual refurbishing is necessary it puts you dollars ahead, season after season. Ask us to demonstrate this finish to you . . . and you'll insist on miracle PERMALON for lowest maintenance cost.

☐ RUGGED "COLD-CLIMATE" SPECIFICATIONS
Both Sylvan pools are ruggedly "over"-engineered because northern winters are notoriously tough on pools. Our UNIPOUR® pool is made of the highest strength concrete (4000psi), and the huskiest steel rods (½"). Our walls, floors and frost beams are the industry's thickest. Our All-Aluminum pool is constructed of extra heavy-duty extrusions, and a .025 vinyl liner that out-muscles the average liner by 20%. And both pools are covered by our superior guarantee.

☐ ASSURED CUSTOMER SATISFACTION (IN WRITING)
Twenty-five years of leadership in pool design and construction has made Sylvan the most recommended pool builder by architects and engineers. When you swim with Sylvan, you can be confident of years of worry-free pool ownership and lasting value. We guarantee it. In both our pools. In writing.

All Sylvan Pools meet or exceed the minimum standards of the National Swimming Pool Institute.

Quality makes the difference!

PEOPLE In The News

Robert E. Dorf, son of Mr and Mrs. Erling Dorf, 283 Mercer Road, a two-year veteran of the Vail Ski School has been promoted to Supervisor there. Formerly assistant director at Red Lodge, Montana, he resides in Vail with his wife and one son.

Donald L. Kemmerer, a former resident of Princeton, and brother of Mrs. Dorf has been elected president of a world wide committee for Monetary Research and Education. The committee will conduct a continuing inquiry into the impact of a third of a century of chronic inflation on the institutions of the free society, both in the United States and other countries. Mr. Kemmerer is a professor of economics at the University of Illinois.

Robert Martin Engelbrecht, Princeton Architect, has been selected by the National Academy of Arts Sciences to be Chairman of this country's first major technical forum on air structures. The Air Structures Forum will bring together this country's foremost authorities to establish the state of the art in design and development of this new building science technology.

Mrs. Alan W. Richards, Princeton Kingston Road, will spend the month of June visiting archaeological sites and museums in Sicily. A teacher for 41 years, she is head of the Latin Department at Princeton High School.

As a result of a study tour of Sicily, arranged for its members by the Archaeological Institute of America, Mrs. Richards will see evidence that remains of the inhabitation of the island by a succession of ancient peoples including the Phoenicians, Greeks, Carthaginians, Romans, Vandals, Arabs and Normans. Among the sites she will visit will be Morgantina, the initial excavation of which was directed by Professors Erik Sjoqvist and Richard Stillwell of the Princeton University department of art and archaeology.

The trip to Sicily is part of a continuing education program Mrs. Richards set for herself years ago to enrich her teaching. On prior occasions she has studied in the American School of Classical Studies at Athens and, as a Fulbright Fellow, in the American Academy in Rome. She has also studied at Michigan, where she earned her master's degree, at Columbia, Michigan, Pittsburgh, Rutgers and William and Mary.

Army Captain Eugene A. Carroll Jr., whose parents live on Carter Road, has received the air medal in Vietnam. Capt. Carroll earned the award for meritorious service while participating in aerial flight in support of ground operations in Vietnam.

A section leader with the 99th Aviation company near Pleiku, he entered the Army in January 1969 and was stationed at Ft. Rucker, Ala. before arriving overseas. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Army Commendation Medal.

He is a 1964 graduate of Notre Dame High School in Trenton, N.J. and received his A.B. degree in 1964 from Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis. His wife, Kathleen, lives in Rockford, Ill.

U. S. Air Force Technical Sergeant Richard Gray, son of Mrs. James E. Gray of Blawenburg, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service while engaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces.

Sergeant Gray, an air freight specialist, was cited for his professionalism, skill, knowledge and performance of his duties while assigned to the 8th Aerial Port Squadron in Vietnam.

He was honored at Dover AFB, Del., where he now serves with a unit of the Military Airlift Command which provides global airlift for U.S. military forces.

Franklyn H. Barlow Jr. of Flemington, a former resident of Penns Neck, has been promoted to treasurer and director of Wyrough & Loser Inc., a manufacturer and distributor of industrial chemicals. A graduate of Princeton High School, he received a bachelor's degree from Rider College. He lives on Biser Road with his wife and three children.

Dr. Coleman d u P. Donaldson, President of Aeronautical Research Associates of Princeton, was in London last week to present a paper at the International Conference on Atmospheric Turbulence. Several countries government agencies and private firms attended the three day conference.

Miss Mary W. Brown, daughter of Mrs. W. R. Brown, 287 Edgerstoune Road and the late Mr. Brown, has been named to the Dean's List for the first semester at Williams College.

Richard R. Gillespie, 8 Winant Road, vice president sales, china and crystal of Lenox, Inc., has been promoted to the newly-created position of vice president, marketing. J. R. Wood & Sons, Inc., a subsidiary of Lenox, J. R. Wood manufactures diamond and wedding rings under the ArtCarved brand name.

Mr. Gillespie joined Lenox in 1960 as manager, marketing research and has held various positions of diversified management responsibility including manager, marketing services, and assistant general manager, plastics division.

Previously he was with James Lee Carpets. He is a graduate of Princeton University and holds a Master's degree from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Peggy L. Gianette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Gianette, 884 Kingston Road, will receive a bachelor of arts degree in English Saturday from Georgian Court College in Lakewood. After graduation she plans to spend a year abroad.

Kathleen Q. Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hoffman, 31 Broadripple Drive, has been awarded a bachelor of science in education. At the 121st Commencement of the University of Dayton.

John K. Bleimaier, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bleimaier of 32 Hawthorne Avenue, will receive his B.A. degree from Columbia College of Columbia University on Tuesday. A 1968 graduate of Princeton High School, he completed his undergraduate education in three years. He has been admitted to the School of International Affairs of Columbia University, where he will continue studies in the fall.

Navy Seaman Apprentice Louis P. Intartaglia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Intartaglia of 68 Clearview Avenue, has graduated from recruit training at the Recruit Training Command, Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. He is a 1968 graduate of Princeton High School, and attended Emerson College, Boston, Mass.

Miss Sarah Fry, daughter of Mrs. Josephine S. Fry, 418 Franklin Avenue, was a member of the cast for the production of "The Summoning of Everyman," a morality play, at Vassar College. Miss Fry, a graduate of Princeton High School, is a freshman at Vassar.

30 OFFICERS ATTEND

Police, Community Relations Course

Thirty police officers from the Borough, Township West Windsor and Princeton University Security Department attended a three-day course in police-community relations at Borough Hall.

The course is conducted throughout the state regularly by the New Jersey Bureau of Education, Division on Civil Rights staff. This was the first time it had been held in the Borough and Chief Peter J. McGrahan reported that they hope to conduct a second semester here in the fall.

The course consisted of lectures, films and discussion groups, leaning heavily on the area of police and minority groups. Three clergymen who addressed the officers in the final session were Rabbi Herschel Matt of the Princeton Jewish Center who spoke on "Plight of the Minority Group Member," Rev. William Matson of the Central Reformed Church in Paterson, who spoke on "How the Clergyman Views the Policeman in the Community," and the Rev. William Knight who conducts a street ministry in Princeton. His topic: "Analysis of Princeton, Minority Groups, Youth and Police."

Three community leaders who addressed the group were Henry N. Drewry, Princeton University Professor of History and president of the Princeton Association of Human Rights; Maitland Jones, Jr., associate professor of chemistry at the University and a former president of the American Civil Liberties Union; and Melvin Tumin, University Professor of Sociology and Anthropology and a member of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice. Their topics: "Local Problems Relating to Minority Groups," "A Concerned Citizen's View of the Police," and "The Public Image of the Police."

Other speakers included Kenneth Hackmann of the FBI, Father William P. Devine of the Mount Carmel Guild Archdiocese of Newark; Sergeants Alfred Mossup and William Black of the State Police Police Community Relations Unit, Dr. Harold A. Lett, a Newark consultant, and Maurice Bucheck and Edward A. Kasson of the staff of the state's Division on Civil Rights.

Of the 30 officers who attended, 10 were from the Borough, 10 from the University, six from the Township and four from West Windsor.

THREE TRUSTEES NAMED

To Princeton Day Board

Three new members were elected this week to the Board of Trustees of Princeton Day School. Elected to three-year terms were Charles L. Taggart, Herbert S. Ruben and Prieter A. Fisher, all of Princeton.

Edmund R. Beckwith, Jr., was elected chairman of the Board.

Prof. Taggart is assistant dean of the graduate school at Princeton. Mr. Ruben is a vice president of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, and Mr. Fisher is a partner in the investment banking firm of Goldman, Sachs. The new members will take office at the June board meeting.

They replace retiring trustees Mrs. David J. Rose, Prof. John T. Bonner and Thomas H. Paine.

FORGET THAT DIET!

Just For One Day! Mrs. Robert L. Bull and Mrs. Richard W. Strazza, food chairman for the 18th annual Hospital Fete, June 12, are hoping that those on a diet will toss it to the winds in favor of pizza, sno cones, hamburgers, cotton candy and ice cream. It's just for a day," they say.

Food is as much a part of the fete as contests and, in addition to all those hot dogs and sno-cones, there will be booths out-of-doors that will be held for the buyer while he enjoys the rest of the fete. Included are gourmet casseroles cooked by some 600 volunteers, hors d'oeuvres, and baked goods.

There will be a "Strawberry Patch" with freshly picked strawberries, chicken barbequed right before your eyes, and enough coffee, iced tea, milk and coke to float the whale. (The Coca Cola Com

HOSPITAL ADDS 96 BEDS

With Purchase of New Unit. Princeton Hospital has purchased Princeton House, located at Herrontown and Mount Lucas Roads in Princeton Township. The facility will become a 96-bed satellite unit of the hospital operating as a fully integrated mental health center.

Following the signing of an agreement of sale, John W. Kauffman, the Hospital's executive vice president, announced that the new mental health center will begin accepting both in and out-patients between June 15 and July 1, after final closing on the property has been held.

"The Hospital service area has a population in excess of 60,000 persons," Mr. Kauffman said. "At the present time, there is no community hospital sponsored program for the care, treatment and rehabilitation of mental illness available to the area. We feel that the acquisition of this new center will provide a needed community health care facility.

"Services at the center will involve four major areas," Mr. Kauffman pointed out. "These will include emergency mental illness treatment; acute psychiatric care; long-term psychiatric care including treatment of senility; drug abuse rehabilitation and treatment of alcoholism. Emergency treatment and rehabilitation will be administered through individual group therapy, family counseling and community education."

Until a full-time director is named, the center will be directed by Dr. Edwin D. Rogers, chairman of Princeton Hospital's Psychiatry Department. Offices of psychiatrists now located in the hospital's Medical Arts Building will be moved into one wing of the new center.

Built on approximately 10 acres of ground some two miles north of Princeton Hospital, the five-wing Princeton House opened its doors as an alcoholic treatment center in November of last year.

COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY

For Choir College. Dr. George Lynn, who from 1961 to 1969 was Music Director and Professor of Conducting at Westminster Choir College, will return on Friday to deliver the address at Westminster's 1971 Commencement Service. It will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the Princeton University Chapel.

The former conductor of both the Westminster and Symphonic Choirs, Dr. Lynn was described, in a citation given to him by the Westminster Alumni Association as a man who, through his years as student, faculty member and music director at Westminster, had given his musical genius, his leadership and his enthusiasm both for music and for the education of the young.

Malcolm Williamson, British composer who has served on the Westminster faculty during the past year, will be presented with an honorary Fellow of Westminster Choir College citation during the ceremony. Being presented with an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree will be Dr. Charles Hirt, chairman of the department of choral music at the University of Southern California.

Also participating in the service will be the Rev. F. Hugh Laffiton, minister of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Arthur Byers, Jr., chairman of the Westminster board of trustees; and J. Merrill Knapp, professor of music at Princeton University.

NCAA Baseball Tournament Opens Thursday; NCAA Policy Leaves 4 Best Teams on Sidelines

At 2:30 Thursday afternoon, the District II NCAA Baseball Tournament will begin a three-day elimination round robin here to determine which of four teams will enter the College World Series in Omaha. Ironically, however, officials at NCAA headquarters in Kansas City have already managed to eliminate the four best teams in the district.

Seton Hall, whose 14-12 record barely allowed it to top the .500 mark, will face Buffalo (17-5) in one contest Thursday. St. Joseph's (also 17-5) will meet Penn State (13-4) in the other round, with the games to be played on adjoining Clarke and Strubing Fields.

Already disbanded for the season are four teams which compiled considerably better records: St. John's, 24-5-1; Princeton, 22-7-1; Iona, 19-5; and Lafayette, 17-4. In virtually every case, they faced far tougher schedules than the four teams which will play here this weekend.

The problem lies in the knuckle headed intransigence traceable to NCAA policy in issuing directives for the selection of teams in its eight districts. Whereas procedure should be geared to bringing the best eight teams together in Omaha — one of which will eventually become national champion — the various decisions governing selection have worked steadily against that. Best proof is the overall season's records compiled by the four ineligible teams, compared to the marks owned by the four participants.

Final Eastern Baseball

| | W. | L. | T. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Harvard | 10 | 5 | 0 | .667 |
| Princeton | 8 | 5 | 1 | .607 |
| Cornell | 7 | 5 | 0 | .584 |
| Dartmouth | 8 | 6 | 0 | .571 |
| Navy | 7 | 6 | 0 | .538 |
| Army | 6 | 6 | 0 | .500 |
| Columbia | 6 | 8 | 0 | .429 |
| Yale | 6 | 8 | 0 | .429 |
| Brown | 5 | 7 | 2 | .429 |
| Penn | 3 | 10 | 1 | .250 |

24 Wins Not Enough. While it is true that all of the teams sidelined by NCAA policy failed to win their league championships, the NCAA ruling that no more than one college can be selected from the same conference works against the strongest teams. That's why St. John's, which won ten more games than Seton Hall, has dropped out of the Metropolitan Conference to resume the role of an independent.

Iona, too, appears to have been short-changed after compiling a 19-5 mark, one of the top records in its history — including a pair of victories over St. John's. Iona finished first in its division in the Met Conference, but lost a two-out-of-three playoff to Seton Hall, which slipped into the District Tournament via the side door despite a mediocre 14-12 record.

Princeton, which moved up to second place in the Eastern League standings when Harvard blanked Cornell in the playoff, 1-0, was likewise disregarded despite its fine record. It was ignored in this district because Harvard, the league champion, was the choice in District I.

In New England, the calibre of college baseball was so weak this spring that only two teams, Harvard and Massachusetts, will battle it out in a best-of-three series for the right to go to Omaha. Dartmouth, like Princeton, was forced out of contention by NCAA policy despite the fact that in Pete Broberg, the Indians have a pitcher major league scouts hope to sign before he graduates a year from now.

Double Elimination Set. To be forced out of this weekend's tournament, each team must be defeated twice. Friday at noon, the winners of Thursday's games will meet each other, as will the losers of the day before.

The latter game will accordingly eliminate one team, and the nines with 2-1 records will then clash at 3 o'clock. The survivor of that game will face the team which has won both its first two starts Saturday at noon.

If that team wins again, it goes to Omaha; if not, a second game will follow at 3 Saturday and the winner of that contest will be the sole survivor in District II. Rain delays which might develop will push the schedule into Sunday and, if necessary, over to Monday.

Batting Title in Doubt. There is a possibility that the league batting championship will be voted a tie between Bob Schiffner, Princeton's king-size first baseman, and Pete Watzka, Cornell outfielder. When they finished the regular season, Watzka had a percentage of .4194 to Schiffner's .4186, but because he had three games rained out, could not qualify for the minimum number of times at bat (39).

The athletic directors of the member colleges will vote on the advisability of a tie, as opposed to giving the title to Watzka, who could not play his last three games, or to Schiffner, who finished second but had 43 at bats. If Schiffner ties or wins, he would be the first Princetonian to do so since Roy Talcott won the title in the war-time season of 1943.

HUN VS. ST. BENEDICT

For State Prep School Title. Following its 5-0 victory over Princeton Day School Saturday for the Penn-Jersey League championship, the Hun School baseball team is just one victory away from what is probably its most satisfying season.

Thursday at 3:30 at the Newark Academy field, Hun will clash with St. Benedict's for the state prep school championship. The two finalists, said Hun coach Dave Leete, were selected on the basis of their records. Hun is 14-1; St. Benedict is 15-4.

Chuck Sista was nominated by Leete to start on the mound for Hun. The two schools have never played before. "I understand they have a very good team," said Leete. "They play a lot of tough public schools."

One has to go back to the late 1950s when Hun lost only one to find a season that has equaled this one for Hun on the diamond. The only blemish this spring was a setback by Toms River High School.

Skrajewski Has Four-Hitter. Always a strong hitting team, this year Hun had a quartet of fine hurlers to go with it. It combined both hitting and pitching Saturday at the University's Clarke Field to defeat PDS. With its ace hurler out with a dislocated shoulder, Hun's Dennis Skrajewski (4-0) supplied the pitching, striking out eight and limiting the Panthers to four hits.

Skrajewski also singled home Hun's first run in the third, his hit scoring shortstop Pete Jones who had singled and stolen second. Hun scored four runs in the next inning to put the game away.

The Red and Black jammed the bases off starter Pete McCandless when Sista singled, Don Meisel doubled and Biff Hollowell walked. Another walk forced in one run, and a wild pitch another. Catcher Greg Rafalski then singled home two more.

Skrajewski and Jones had four of Hun's eight hits. Leete spoke of Jones after the game. "He played a real good game. He got two hits, scored two runs and just played heads up baseball.

"All the kids played well. It was a nice game to win," he added.

All Hun's runs where charged to Pete McCandless who pitched the first 3-1/3 innings. Dave Clagborn finished the game. Panther catcher Terry Booth tripled and Cari Jacobelli doubled for the losers.

Earlier in the week, Hun sophomore Paul Creamer pitched Hun to a 10-6 victory over Perkiomen. His record is 2-0.

PDS HAS SAD END

To Otherwise Fine Season. When you lose the championship game, it's often difficult to put a season in its proper perspective, but the Princeton Day baseball team can take pride it what it accomplished this year.

Reaching the .500 mark only once in the past three years of varsity competition, the Panthers' veteran squad zoomed to a 9-4 record this season, winning its division. The 5-0 defeat to Hun in the playoff game last Saturday was certainly no disgrace. The Blue and White was beaten by one of the best Hun teams ever, a team that will play for the State Prep title this Thursday.

PDS will be out of the Penn-Jersey league, beginning this fall, so the baseball team will not face the problem of he peating as champion. It would be a tough assignment in any case; the Panthers will lose several of their starting horn. Terry Booth, Carl Jacobelli, Carl Rosenburg and Pete McCandless.

TWO MORE YEARS LEFT: A steady winner for coach Bill Humes' unbeaten PHS tennis team has been the sophomore number two doubles team of Richard Broad (left) and Randy Thomas. Their win was a key to the Little Tigers' big victory over Christian Brothers.

GLOUCHEVITCH OUSTED

In Indoor Tennis Final. Michael Glouchevitch, number one singles player for the Princeton High Schoon tennis team, advanced to the finals of the Mercer County High School Indoor Tennis Championship last week but was ousted in straight sets by Princeton Day School's Steve Bash.

Bash thus gained revenge for his defeat by Glouchevitch earlier this spring in a dual meet between the two schools which PHS won, 3-2. "These two are so even, they take turns beating each other," commented PHS coach Bill Humes. Both are products of the Princeton Community Tennis Program.

Danny Thompson, number two singles player for PHS, was eliminated by Bash in the semi-finals.

This Wednesday afternoon, PHS was scheduled to oppose Lakewood here in its first battle in the Southern Division of the state competition. PHS, the defending Southern division champion, drew an opening round bye.

RHODES BEST JUMPER

In Divisional Track Meet. In the Greater Jersey Conference Southern Division track meet held Saturday at Ewing, Princeton High School's Ron Rhodes captured the only first by a Little Tiger, jumping 20-10 to win the broad jump. Ewing won the team title with 83½ points; PHS and Trenton tied for fourth at 31 points each.

The top three finishers in each event qualified for the Greater Jersey Conference Meet that will be held Tuesday at JFK High School in Iselin. Joining Rhodes in making the trip will be Bill Evers who placed second in the 880 and hopefully Lawrence Parker.

Parker, who with Ken White of Ewing are the two best javelin throwers in the county, did not compete because of the death of his mother the night before. PHS coach Larry Ivan reported that he wrote a letter to NJ SIAA officials explaining the situation. "I hope he can go," he said.

Evers, who won the 880 in the County Conference Meet the week before, was bumped from behind Saturday while running in fourth position. "It threw him off," said Ivan, "but he regained his composure and peeled off a gallant effort. Another few yards and he might have won it. He's a gutsy runner."

More to Come. There is still a lot of activity left on the track for PHS.

Saturday, the Group 3 Sectionals will be held at Haddon Heights High School in Westmont. On Wednesday at 3:45, the Little Tigers will entertain Hopewell Valley in their final dual meet of the season. This Wednesday, they were scheduled to play host to a strong Somerville squad.

Second in a Field of 28. At the Governor Livingston Invitational Meet held last week at Berkely Heights, PHS surprised by finishing second to Scotch Plains, the meet winner. Twenty eight schools participated.

Daryl Boone won the long jump with a 20-8 effort. Rhodes taking second this time with 20-2½.

Tom Snow who ran a 5-04.2 mile to win that event in the Junior High Meet in Trenton last week, produced a 10-39.5 two mile at Berkley Heights. "Which is fantastic for a freshman" commented Ivan. "He's going to be great. I'm not kidding."

Taking seconds for PHS were Roland Smith in the mile (4:42.8); Evers in the 880 (2:04) and Lewis Drury in the shot (43-7).

Top Lawrence, 65½ to 60½. Earlier in the week, PHS won its third dual meet of the season, edging Lawrence, 65½ to 60½. A key sweep and "nine very important points" came in the 440. Lionel Hammond (59.1) was first, Don Owens second and Pete Amburs third for PHS.

In the long jump, Rhodes was way out there with 21-½ but it was worth only second place. The Cardinals' Bill Kauffman jumped 21-5.

Parker, who is expected to exceed 200 feet in the javelin, did so on his second throw, but he fouled. He won the event with a toss of 198-6.

Other firsts: Joe Bolster in the two mile, Roland Smith

HE OWNS THREE PHS WINS: When he keeps the ball low, Junior righthander Lance Marshall is hard to beat. Of the four PHS wins this season so far, Lance has been credited with three.

in the mile, Steve Woodside (11-0) in the pole vault. Drury (47-4½) in the shot and Evers in the 880.

Parker also finished second in the 220 and 100. Boone and Richard Jackson both high jumped 5-6, Boone taking a second on fewer misses.

FINAL GAME MONDAY

For PHS Baseball Team. If attempts to reschedule Friday's rained out game with Notre Dame prove fruitless, Monday's game on Hunterdon Central will be the last of the season for the Princeton High School baseball team. The team is presently 4-10.

The Little Tigers lost their third in a row last week, dropping a 7-0 shutout to Trenton. Once again, lack of firepower at the plate hurt the losers, as a bunt single by Dave Mansue and an infield hit by Kent Bain were all they were allowed by winning pitcher Sam Cacallori. In its last three outings, PHS has collected a total of eight hits.

Trenton rapped 11 hits off Lance Marshall who went the distance in picking up his fourth loss of the season. He has three of Princeton's four victories. Three of those hits came in the third when THS bunched a single, double and triple to score two runs. It also added a pair of runs in both the sixth and seventy innings.

Cacallori fanned nine in getting his first win of the season. He has lost none. Marshall whiffed four.

PDS NETMEN WIN

In Tournament Play. Members of the Princeton Day boys and girls tennis teams won most of the laurels in the Mercer County High School tournament last weekend.

The PDS boys took a brief respite from their winning ways in the tournament on Saturday, returning to Princeton to beat Hun 4-1, and take the Penn-Jersey title in the process for the second year in a row. The only PDS loser was Mitch Sussman.

Two PDS girls played each other in the girls' singles finals in the county tourney, and two Princeton High School teams played the girls' doubles finals.

In the Mercer County singles finals, first-seeded Steve Bash, number one on the PDS team, took revenge on PHS' Michael Glouchevitch for a regular season defeat, and captured the title with a 6-4, 6-1 win.

Boys' doubles was all PDS in the finals, and each team beat a PHS pair to get to the title match. Rob Holt and Buzz Woodworth of PDS beat Aldridge and Nick Glouchevitch 6-3, 6-3 and Evan Bash and Jon Kraut took Randy Thomas and Dick Broad of PHS 6-3, 6-1.

It took Holt and Woodworth three sets to win the crown from their teammates. They dropped the first 4-6, won the second on a tie-breaker 7-6, and took the third set 6-3.

Robin Kraut took the Mercer title in singles from her PDS teammate Ellen Sussman, winning 6-2, 6-0 in the finals.

The girls' doubles finals were all PHS. The PHS team of VanDeWalle and Henry took their semi-final match from the lone PDS entry of Sue Ross and Liz Pratt by scores of 6-4, 7-5, but lost in the finals to their teammates, Bauer and Bauman, 6-1, 6-1.

PDS WINS LAST TWO

Ends 8-4 to Lacrosse. Princeton Day School closed its most successful lacrosse season in history Friday with a 4-1 win over Clifton High School.

The Panthers finished the year winning eight and losing four a neat reversal of last year's 4-7 record. They outscored their opponents 73 to 30 along the way.

Co-captain Tim Smith set new scoring records through out the season, racking up 31 goals and 9 assists for a 40-point total.

Three of the four PDS losses were by one goal, one of them in triple overtime. Only Poly Prep, traditional Long Island power, won by a larger margin, 7-3.

Friday's contest, played on a rough, wet field, started slowly. The first period was scoreless, but early in the second frame attackman John Moore netted one from the crease to put PDS in the lead.

Smith got his first of two for the day early in the second half, and John Gordon's goal made it 3-0 as the third period ended. Smith's second goal made it 4-1, and Clifton scored its lone goal on a golf shot from a scramble with two minutes left in the game.

In the game Wednesday against Hun the Panthers broke up a 1-1 tie with three goals in the second period and went on to win 6-2. Smith and Moore had two goals apiece. Art Mittnacht had one, and Sam Rodgers had a goal and three assists.

ETS BEATS McGRAW-HILL

Gilbert Pitches Shutout. If anyone had any doubts about whether Educational Testing Service had the ability to repeat as champion of the Business Softball League, they were immediately dispelled last week, when the defending champions routed McGraw-Hill 13-0, in the first meeting between the Eastern division powerhouses.

Bones Gilbert limited McGraw batters to just six hits, all singles, and only allowed one man to get as far as third base. Meanwhile at the plate, Gilbert slammed out a double, triple and home run, good for four RBIs and scored three runs, himself. It was all over after the first inning when the winners scored six runs on six of their 15 hits. ETS is now 4-0.

In the western division, Cities Service kept an unblemished record with a 28-3 rout of Firmenich. RCA Astro remained in second place a game behind with an 8-5 victory over Hopewell TV. Bob Galcik had a home run and solid hitting by Jim Willits, John Kovick, Gary Chianese and Bou Gotwald produced the Astro runs. Gotwald limited Astro batters to six hits.

RCA A won its second game against only one loss outslugging ERC, 14-12. John Meyer had four hits and Bill Procaccini and Max Hopkins three apiece. ERC went into the last inning 10 runs behind and managed an eight-run rally, two short of a tie.

Back in the east, FMC pulled its record up to .500 with a 21-1 bombing of Shearer Tree. Bob Stofarz stymied Shearer batters, giving up an unearned run in the first and allowing no runner past second after that. He gave up just eight hits. Rich Angel led the winners' 23-hit attack with a home run, two doubles and a single.

IDA also won its second against two losses, beating RCA B 7-6. The winners defense protected their slim lead with two double plays to cut off rallies by RCA.

615 POUNDS OF DEFENSE: First string defensive alignment on the Princeton High School lacrosse teams consists of Lou John Rossi, (left), Dave O'Brien, and John Drummond — all weighing in at 205 pounds. Earlier, the three played together as members of the PHS football team, O'Brien and Drummond as interior linemen. Rossi as a tailback.

SUMMER CLASSES SET

For Community Teanis. The Princeton Community Tennis Program schedule of summer classes is now available.

Classes begin Monday, June 14 with special arrangements for anyone who still has half days of school that week. Registration may be on a seasonal or weekly basis to accommodate vacation plans.

Instructional classes for all ages and ability levels will be held throughout June, July and August. There is a basic fee for participating in the program but anyone who cannot afford the lesson charges is welcome to enroll on a scholarship basis.

The 10-week spring session which began April 3 has had over 1,000 students per week enrolled in 57 separate classes divided into small groupings by age and ability level. More than 100 instructors have been working in the spring program.

Whereas students come once a week in the spring over a 10 week period, they attend three times a week during the summer months and have many other program activities such as "Davis Cup Tennis League" among themselves, informal exchange matches with other communities, and tournament participation for those who are ready for competitive play.

The University Store, Center Sports, Varsity Sports, Hinkson, Princeton Public Library, or the Recreation Office in Township Hall all have registration blanks.

HOLZMAN WINS AGAIN

In Sunfish Racing. Bob Holzman continued his mastery in Sunfish racing on Carnegie Lake Sunday as he finished first. Second place went to Walt Gibson, while Jack Kunz was third.

Bill O'Donnell and Dick Jesser finished first and second in the Penguin competition as only 15 boats parti cipated in the seventh week of sailing in the spring series of races.

All Sunfish skippers under 17 are urged to participate in the final three weeks of the current series to sharpen their skills in competition with their elders.

HAMILTON IS SHUT OUT

By PHS Nine, 5-0. Lance Marshall (4-4) scattered seven hits and Princeton High School scored all its runs in the third inning Tuesday to blank Hamilton here, 5-0.

"They played very well in the field, they played good baseball," commented coach Harry Zoll, as he watched his Little Tigers win their fifth against 11 losses. Perhaps looking toward next year, Zoll started freshman Bob Zins mirster behind the plate.

The beefy young catcher aquitted himself well. He got one of six Princeton hits and threw out the first runner who tried to steal on him. The regular backstop, Dave Mansue, was at second—and was the only PHS senior on the field.

"Give me one more good pitcher and these guys are going to go next year," Zoll predicted.

After PHS loaded the bases in the third without a hit, Don Crosby singled home the first run. Greg Kline squeezed home a second and Chris Grazel followed with a single down the right line scoring two more. Grazel then scored the last run on an error by the Hornet third baseman.

Don Crosby had two of Princeton's six hits to continue to lead the team in batting. Neil Cummings (2-3) was charged with the loss. Hamilton's record dipped to 6-8.

Lose to Steinert. The previous day, the most PHS could score off Steinert hurler Carl Holden (4-2) was on run, en route to a 4-1 setback. Steinert's record climbed to 9-6.

The losers' lone run came off a single by Grazel, a bunt single by Mansue — one of three such hits by him during the game—an infield out and an error.

Don Crosby (1-7), whose only victory was over the same Spartan team in May, was charged with the loss.

PHS STICKMEN DIVIDE

No Chance for Winning Season. The Princeton High School lacrosse team, which was scheduled to end its 13 game season here Wednesday afternoon against George School, lost more than just a game Monday when it was defeated, 10-7, by Hanover Park.

The unexpected setback dropped the Little Tigers back to a 3-7 mark and left them without hope of finishing above .500.

Needing to win their last three, the Little Tigers began in fine fashion last week when they toppled Newton, 5-3. The game ended 3-3 in regulation time, but in the two three-minute overtime periods, Joe McQuinn and Pat Connolly each scored for PHS to insure the win.

Kevin Smith and McGuinn had each scored in regulation time for PHS, giving McGuinn the junior attack, three goals for the afternoon.

RHODES SHATTERS MARK

In Broad Jump. A thirteen year old Princeton High School track record fell by the way side Monday as Ron Rhodes leaped 22 feet, 7¾ inches in a dual meet with Hamilton.

Rhodes bettered the previous mark set in 1957 by a whopping eight inches. "He not only broke it, he shattered it," commented his coach, Larry Ivan. The old mark of 21-11½ was held jointly by Ed Wells and Rod Pannell.

Rhodes' record - breaker came on his second jump, after he had been way out on his first, only to foul by an inch. "He had everything together: great lift, head up, arms up," commented Ivan.

According to Ivan, the best jump in the state this year previous to Ron's jump had been 22-3. "He's been shooting for it for a long time," he said.

Rhodes' feat overshadowed another sparkling performance by freshman Tom Snow in the two-mile. Snow covered the distance in 10:23.5 to nip Hamilton's ace Tom Vran, by .4 of a second. His brother, Steve Snow, a senior, was third with 11:16.9.

Tom thus clipped four seconds off his previous best time set last week and he has Ivan — no stranger to superlatives — searching for some new words to extol his freshman phenomenon.

Against Hamilton, the Mercer County champion, Ivan had figured his team would compile a maximum of 46 points. He hadn't figured on Snow defeating Vran, and so the Little Tigers actually ran up 49½ points to Hamilton's 76½.

Lawrence Parker won the javelin, Joe Bolster the mile (4:46.4) and Steve Woodside the pole vault (11-6). Taking seconds were Parker in the 220, Bill Evers in the 880, Lewis Drury in the shot, Daryl Boone in the high jump and Lionel Hammond in the low hurdles.

FOUR NEW MARKS SET

By PHS Girls in Track. In an NJSIAA State Sectional meet held Saturday at Monmouth College in Long Branch — the first such girls track meet sanctioned by the NJSIAA — Princeton High School runners came in first in four events.

Because it was the first meet sanctioned by the sport governing body in the state, all first place finishes were deemed new state sectional records, PHS coach Lamont Fletcher reported.

Karen Herzog ran the 120-yard hurdles in 17.7 which was a new PHS record as well as state mark. Andrea Bowman won the long jump with a leap of 16-8, placed second in the 220 and fifth in the 100-yard dash. She had one jump of 17-2 but fouled by an inch.

Lori Bowman captured the 50 yard dash in 6.2 for another school and state record and placed third in the high jump. Betty Woodbridge ran the mile in 5:25, her best time ever for still another PHS and state record.

Frances Walstad finished third in the 440, as did the PHS 880-yard relay team of Walstad, Brisbane Kessler, Nadia El Meglia and Herzog.

For the meet, the state was

When Bill Pearce of 60 Parkside Drive won the raffle benefiting Trinity Church for an expense paid vacation in Jamaica, it appeared that he might have exhausted his quota of luck for the day.

Not so. Shortly after the drawing was held, he headed for the golf course. On the 190-yard 9th hole at Springdale, using a No. 5 wood, Pearce made a hole in one.

DRESS SHOP TO CLOSE

Almost 22 Years on Nassau. The Betty Wright Shop at 141 Nassau Street closes its doors "the weekend of June 10," according to Helen Glover, the present owner. The shop, a fixture on Nassau Street for nearly 22 years, was bought by Helen Glover from Betty Wright ten years ago.

In the flurry of a closing out sale, with dresses, lingerie and accessories all reduced to half price, Mrs. Glover found time to say that running a dress shop "isn't any fun anymore."

She cited high prices, the wave of shoplifting, a pending rent increase and the changed pattern of buying merchandise as her main headaches.

"I used to enjoy selling. And I used to enjoy going in to do the buying - but things have gotten too high priced. Everything has gone so wild - you have to buy 16 or 18 styles - It's no longer any fun."

Mrs. Glover notes that Nassau Hobby Shop plans to expand into the Betty Wright Shop premises. Her own plans are simple: "I'm going to get a job!"

divided into two divisions — north and south. Competing among 18 other schools in the north division, PHS finished third with 46 points. Franklin had 53 and Matawan 48.

PHS might have finished higher except for an apparent mixup in the clocking of the 220. Fletcher reported that he and four other judges had PHS girls taking first and second. When the official results gave PHS only a second and fourth, Fletcher protested but to no avail. In the confusion, PHS "lost" four points. "It was," said Fletcher, "a very rough day."

Lose to Franklin. On Friday, PHS lost its third dual meet of the season when Franklin swept all the field events where PHS is weak, to win, 70-48.

The lone double for PHS was scored by Lori Bowman who won the 50-yard dash and high jump. Sister Andrew jumped 16-10 to set a new PHS mark in the long jump.

Karen Herzog ran the 120 hurdles in 18.0 to clip .2 of a second off of her old school record — which she immediately bettered again the next day in the sectional meet.

The team was scheduled to end its dual meet season Wednesday at 3:45 against visiting Pennsbury.

OPENERS WEDNESDAY

For Adult Softball League. Six of the seven teams of the Princeton Adult Softball League will see opening-game action Wednesday evening at Community Park. All games will start at 6:15.

Some familiar names have wound up on different teams, and off the pre-season lineups, there appears to be better balance in the league this year. Opening round matchups will pit Conte's Bar against Grover's Hustlers; Nassau-Conover Motors against Teague and Hinds, and Ivy Inn against Varsity Sport Shop. The Country Squire, a new team, had an opening-round bye.

Conte's Bar, the defending champion, has lost four of its starters to other teams. Returning will be Frank and Wes Cawley and Bill McQuade. McQuade a former PHS player, teamed with coach Dave Leete at Hun this year to bring the Penn-Jersey League title to Hun. Also back will be Bud Fowler. Conte's number one pitcher (the league is slow pitch); Jim Quinn and Jack Roberts.

Grover's Hustlers will be led by Gerald Grover, leading hitter in the league last year. Hank Peckett will fill in at short or third.

Teague and Hinds, which battled Conte's tooth and nail last year, may be even stronger this spring in the person of three newcomers: George McVaugn and Ray Cranstoun, both former Conte players, and Bucky Melvin from Varsity Sport Shop. Returning are star pitcher Bob Bartlett and George Tucker, fleet of foot, in the outfield. Teague apears to have the same power at the plate and defensive abilities that carried it last year into contention.

Tom Brophy will again wear several hats for Nassau-Conover Motors — pitcher, hitter and manager. Larry McHugh will be a fixture at second, while John Armonia will either play third or catch.

In picking up Richie Volz and Rick Hagadorn from the Outlaws — two good hitters — and Doug Watson, Alby Toto and Bill Bartolino from Conte's, Ivy Inn has to be stronger than it was last year. Tony Pirone will play first.

Varsity Sport Shop, which started slowly last year, may be a team to contend with from the start this time. John Pesce and Jerry Perepiua, two of its standouts, are returning, as is Jim Pirone who will manage and patrol the outfield. Alan Medvin, a new prospect, will be at second.

The Country Squire seems to be misnamed: it will be anything but gentlemanly at the plate and it is made up mostly of young players, such at Jeff Grover, Chris Hagadorn, Rick Embley, and Mike

Maybe someday all cars will be built like the Citroen.

Maybe someday.

Maybe it depends on you.

When you demand e car, for example, that would ride like a Rolls but costs like a Chevy. One that would take curves like a Masarati but seats a five full passengers. A car that would be in every sense a luxury car—yet burns gas like a tiny Volkswagen (27 MPG).

Maybe you could get that kind of car from Detroit if you demanded it. Or you could buy one right now. It's called a Citroen. Just go to your nearest Citroen dealer and test drive it.

GRADUATION HELD

By Dog Training Club.

Thirty one dogs completed courses Thursday when the Princeton Dog Training Club held its spring term graduation exercises in the Community Park School gymnasium.

First place among the beginners went to a German Shepherd owned by Rita Garofino of New Hope, while another dog of the same breed, owned by Josephine Kuhlmann of Roosevelt was runner up.

A [illegible] owned by Constance Haynes of Princeton placed third and a Labrador Retriever belonging to Michael Kingsford of Princeton was fourth. James Moncur of Kendall Park was the judge.

A Golden Retriever belonging to Penny Thomas of Princeton topped the entries in the intermediate class. A poodle owned by Kate Campbell of Princeton was second.

A Golden Retriever belonging to Penny Janzen of Princeton was third, while fourth place went to an Irish Setter owned by Phillip Gaskill of Trenton. Sheldon Embley of Hopewell was the judge.

The club has trained more than 2,000 dogs in the past two decades. Information on the classes may be obtained through the secretary Joy Parsons, at 921 7463.

TENNIS PROGRAM ACTIVE As Summer Nears.

The Princeton Community Tennis Program has announced that all tennis classes will be held as usual through this coming weekend, rain or shine.

Those going away for the Memorial Day holiday should consult their instructors about make ups. The final week of spring classes will be June 5 through 11. Those who require make up lessons may go to Community Park any weekday afternoon from 3 to 4 30 or 1.30 to 6.

John Conray, director of the advanced program, has announced a general meeting for all Gold Cup and Advanced Tournament Players on Thursday, June 3 at 5:15 pm the Church Courts. In case of rain, the meeting will be held in Community Park School Gym.

The meeting is planned to discuss details of the Cullen tournament group, as well as the schedule of classes, ladder and league play, exchange matches and tournaments for all Gold Cup participants this summer.

Registration is now in progress for the summer tennis session. There will be classes for all ages and abilities starting from third grade through adult men and women. Classes begin Monday, June 14, and continue throughout August.

All advanced players should come to this preliminary meeting, as special plans are being made for this ability grouping to provide the kind of intensive training and opportunity for competition that is desired. Those who need a summer registration blank may obtain it at the Princeton Recreation Office, Hinkson's, University Store, Varsity Sports, Center Sports or from any of the instructors.

Pool Swim Team Planned

The formation of a Community Park Pool competitive swim team has been outlined to the Princeton Recreation Department by William Farley, Princeton University swimming coach.

A competitive swim program under his direction will begin Tuesday morning. Those interested in joining are invited to obtain applications from the Princeton Recreation Department in Township Hall. It will be patterned after a similar program at the Community Pool last year, but more emphasis will be placed on a complete program and on incorporating all participants into the team.

HUN'S CORTINA EXCELLS

In Invitational Track Meet.

Greg Cortina of Hun School, sought by some 200 colleges for his football and track ability, showed Saturday why he is one of eight high school seniors in the nation to be invited to compete in the shot put at the 12th annual Golden West Invitational Track and Field Meet to be held in mid June at Sacramento State College in California.

In the first Lawrenceville Track and Field Meet, Cortina hurled the shot 66-11½ — easily the best throw ever recorded in Lavino Field House on the Lawrenceville School campus. The throw was just short of Cortina's best effort of 67 feet, one-quarter inch.

Cortina also won his second specialty, the discus, with ease. His winning throw measured 161 2. He will enter Notre Dame in the fall on a football scholarship.

BOWLING NOTES

Rocky Hill Wins Playoff.

Rocky Hill last week won the playoff with Kingston for the championship of the Tri-County Firemen's League.

Rocky Hill won the first and third game to take the title by 100 pins. Carlo Perantoni was high for Rocky Hill with 172-177; George Luck rolled 172-181-201 for Kingston.

Hesco Electric captured the second of the A League, finishing ahead of its season-long pursuer, Stenfanelli's, 84 to 80. Rialto Barber Shop (54) was a distant third.

Hesco was scheduled to meet Ivy Inn, first-half victors, this Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Princeton Recreations Lanes on Nassau Street to decide the championship.

Bucci Builders won the championship of the Business Women's League when it defeated Balestrieri, two games to one. Bucci won the first half and a rollofr was necessary when Balestrieri edged Bucci, 68-64, to win second-half honors.

Obituaries

Mrs. Doris Kelley, 67, of 14 College Road, died May 21 in Princeton Hospital. She was the wife of Prof. Maurice W. Kelley, professor of English at Princeton University.

Born in Livingston, Ill., Mrs. Kelley was a graduate of Oklahoma State University in the Class of 1924. She was a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, the University League of Princeton and the Hospital Aid Committee.

Also surviving are a son, David M. Kelley of Albuquerque, N. Mex.; two daughters, Mrs. Harry K. Schwartz of Philadelphia and Mrs. Chris Quigg of Stonybrook, L.I.; two brandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Alma Smith and Mrs. Emmett Robertson, both of Enid, Okla., and Mrs. Robert Coyle of Perry, Okla.

The service and interment will be held at a later date. Arrangements are under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

---

John Di Meglio, 80, of 49 Moran Avenue, died May 18 in Princeton Hospital. He retired in 1956 as owner of the Rialty Barber Shop.

Born in Italy, Mr. DiMeglio lived in Princeton for 60 years. He was a member of the Order of Sons of Italy and a charter member of the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lena DiMeglio; three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Somers of Princeton, Mrs. Mary Hodges of Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Nancy Guarnieri of Tucson, Ariz., one son, Anthony, of Tucson; 11 grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated in St. Paul's Church with interment in the parish cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

---

Mrs. Ruth Parker, 56, of 27 Leigh Avenue, died May 21 in Princeton Hospital.

A native of Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Parker lived in Princeton for 25 years. She was a member of Mount Pisgah A.M.E. Church and the Christian Education Board, the Nurses Unit and the Willing Workers of the church.

Surviving are two sons, Thomas A. Parker and Lawrence E. Parker, both of Princeton; one daughter, Mrs. Salley Ann Best of Princeton; two grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Ernestine Ball of Trenton, and Mrs. Edith M. Savage of Ewing Township, former president of the Trenton chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

The funeral was held at the Mount Pisgah AME Church, the Rev. Marion Stokes officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

---

Elmer W. Dietz, 67, of 30 Thurston Avenue, Ewing Township, died May 25 at the West Jersey Hospital Camp, from 1941 until his retirement three years ago. Mr. Dietz was manager of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. office in Princeton.

Born in Philadelphia, he had lived in Ewing Township since 1939. For five years after he had moved there, he was assistant manager of the Bell Telephone office in Trenton.

Mr. Dietz was a past president of the Trenton Lions Club and a deacon of the Ewing Presbyterian Church. He also belonged to a number of civic and social organizations.

Husband of the late Florence A. Dietz, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Paul A. Metz of Collingswood.

The funeral will be held Friday at 11 a.m. at Twins & Taylor, 77 Prospect Street, Trenton, the Rev. George R. Mather officiating. Burial will be in Ewing Church Cemetery.

---

Roland G. Clayton, 64, of Princeton Junction, died May 24 in Princeton Hospital. He owned and operated Clayton's Sports Shop in Hightstown from 1951 until his retirement in 1963.

Mr. Clayton was born in Smithburg, N. J., and lived in Cranbury prior to moving to Princeton Junction in 1951. He was a life member of the Citizens' Rifle and Revolver Club.

Surviving are his wife, Edith T. Clayton, and one son, Gordon R., of West Windsor Township.

The service will be held at 11 a.m. this Friday in the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue, with the Rev. James S. Weaver of Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Brainerd Cemetery.

---

Charles W. Carlson, 69, of 78 Lake Avenue, Lynn, Mass., formerly of Princeton, died suddenly May 14 at his home. He was beverage manager of the Princeton Inn for 25 years.

A native of Lynn, Mr. Carlson lived in Princeton during most of his life, returning to Lynn upon his retirement four years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Della S. Carlson; four brothers, Frank G., Ernest A. and Frederick J. Carlson, all of Lynn, and Melvin V. Carlson of Hayward, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. Anna C. Graham of Lynn.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated in St. Pius V Church, Lynn, with interment in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Robert A. Benham, 77, of 18 Independence Drive, died May 19 in LaJolla, Calif.

For many years prior to World War II, he was manager of the restaurant, Martha's Kitchen, at 4 Mercer Street, where TOWN TOPICS is now located. In 1946, he and Robert F. McCarthy started the Wine and Game Shop which he operated for more than a decade prior to his retirement.

A native of Princeton, Mr. Benham was a veteran of World War I. He was a member of American Legion Post 76, Sons of the American Revolution and was a 50 year member of Princeton Lodge 30, F&AM.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Muriel Benham; two sons, Robert B. of King of Prussia, Pa., and Martin N. of Idaho Falls, Idaho, and three grandchildren.

The service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Jay T. Jones, 56, of 25 Wiggins Street, died suddenly May 6 in St. Maarten, Netherlands, West Indies. He was supervisor of planning and scheduling for the wire rope division of CF&I of Trenton until his retirement in 1968.

A native of Hightstown, he lived in Princeton since 1948. Mr. Jones was a graduate of Rutgers University in 1936, a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity; Hightstown Lodge 41, F&AM; Scottish Rite and Crescent Temple of Trenton and the Princeton Shrine Club.

His wife, Mrs. Elisabeth B. Jones, survives him.

The service and interment were held at the convenience of the family in St. Maarten.

---

Mrs. Joan T. Nelson, 43, of 13808 102nd Avenue, North, Largo, Fla., died suddenly May 24 at home. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Twyman of Princeton.

A native of Philadelphia, Mrs. Nelson lived in Florida for the past 12 years. She attended the Loring School in Chicago and Michigan State University.

Also surviving are her husband, Minton D. Nelson; two daughters, Jan and Lynn, at home; two sons, Lawrence at home and John, also of Florida, and a brother, Elmer F. Twyman III of Weston, Conn.

The service will be held at 2:30 p.m. this Thursday at the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue, with the Rev. Jay K. Helms of Princeton United Methodist Church officiating. Private interment service will be held at Princeton Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorial gifts may be made to the Methodist Church.

News Of The CHURCHES

TEA IS PLANNED

By Rev. Mrs. Titus. The Rev. Susie T. Titus of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, will hold a tea from 2 to 6 this Sunday at her new house on Schalks Crossing Road, Plainsboro, to thank all those who came to her aid when the house was nearly destroyed by fire in January of 1970.

The house was rebuilt at the same location through contributions from the community and elsewhere to the Rev. Susie T. Titus Rescue Fund, organized by the Mt. Pisgah pastor, the Rev. Marion F. Stokes. Nearly $5,000 was raised. The tea is the Rev. Mrs. Titus's thank you.

To reach the Rev. Mrs. Titus's home, take U.S. 1 north from Princeton, turn right onto the Plainsboro Road, turn left onto Schalks Crossing Road and drive about two or three miles.

A former "Woman of the Week," the Rev. Mrs. Titus is associate minister at Mt. Pisgah. For the past 20 years she has served as a church leader, including the ministry of the Bethel A.M.E. Church in Metuchen and Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church in Skillman. She has also maintained a special ministry to the migrant workers of the Cranbury-Plainsboro area, under the sponsorship of the New Jersey Council of Churches.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD

By Unitarians. Chester A. Aronson was elected president at the annual congregational meeting of the Unitarian Church of Princeton. He succeeds George Easter.

Also to serve as officers for the coming year are: Sally Easter, vice president for program; Ross Filson, vice-president for religious education; Carl Haag, vice-president, finance; William Rogers, vice-president, administration, and Colleen Huckabee, secretary. New trustees are Nancy Dawson, Kenneth Wells and youth trustee Barton Rouse.

Reports were given by outgoing President Easter, the Rev. Robert L. Cope and Minister of Education Fred Ward. The 1971-72 budget was approved. From the successful "Auction, Etc." proceeds, $500 was allocated to the William Kight ministry to youth and $500 to the church's legal defense fund. The remainder of the auction funds will be presented to the congregation for consideration in September.

Fifteen program committees displayed summaries of the year's activities. Vice president Ingrid Reed noted that this has been a particularly active year for the church: over 350 children and 100 adults were involved in the religious education program; 45 new members joined the church, and four evening entertainments raised $400 for the Hospital Chaplain's Fund.

---

The year's program closes with a family service and picnic on June 6. Informal worship services, led by members of the congregation will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Sundays in the small auditorium. Child care will be available.

TEENS TO LEAD SERVICE

At St. Andrew's. A sermon dialogue, titled "The Answer," will be presented by the Senior High Fellowship at the 10 a.m. service this Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Peter M. Bach is youth leader.

Participants in the innivative service are Carol Thompson, Karen Mertz, Betty Cobs, Bob Mangan, Rob Buckler, Sharon Donald, Bob Narozanick, Lynn Ann Merrill, Beth Perkins, Sue Cobbs, Cindy Mangan, Tom Reiber, Janet Helms, Rob Reiber, Barbara and Peter Bach.

BACCALAUREATE SET

By Choir College. The Baccalaureate Service of Westminster Choir College will be held at 11 a.m. this Thursday in First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Dr. Richard C. Halverson of Fourth Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., will deliver the sermon.

Dr. Halverson, the author of seven books is a contributing editor to "Christianity Today" and is editor of "Perspective," a weekly newsletter for business and professional men. Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel of First Presbyterian Church, will also participate.

Eight compositions by Malcolm Williamsan, the British compuser in residence at the college this year, will be performed during the service.

BULLETIN NOTES

"How to Find Lasting Satisfaction" is the title of a Christian Science lecture to be given at 8:30 p.m. next Thursday, June 3, in the John Witherspoon School. The speaker is Catherine H. Anwandter of Santiago, Chile. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Bayard Lane, is sponsoring the free lecture.

What's New?

Housing starts are up. 1971 will be a big year for new homes. 16 builders are busy in the Princetoa area. Our people have first-hand knowledge of all these new homes. You would look at them . . . yourself! Only by comparing what is offered, can you determine value. In Princetoa, we can show you ten new houses. Lawrence Township offers fine new Colonials next to a golf course. West Windsor can boast of the greatest number available . . . and the greatest variety. In the woods and hills of Hopewell Township, we'll soon be able to show you some of the most interesting new homes in the area. They that supplies! Phone today . . . take the tour while the dogwoods are still in bloom.

Prices begin in the low 40s.

CENTRAL AIR-CONDITIONING — Begin to live in comfort this Summer! 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths make this bright, airy home a delight to see. Wonderful kitchen — big enough for all the kids to eat in . . . all the time. An acre of land for that swimming pool you've always dreamed of. Immediate occupancy! $49,900

Member Princeton Real Estate Group . . . we'll show you every property available in Princeton & vicinity!

The most beautiful outlook in Princeton and a house that takes full advantage of it — quite simply, this it is. Even apart from its long view of the Hopewell Valley, Sourland Mountains, sunsets and all that, these heavenly eleven acres are unique. Deep woods and sloping green swards, rugged rocks and gentle groves, cattail and rush-dotted marshes, a big open pond for people's pleasure, a little hidden one for wildlife, lush landscaping managing to look perfectly natural — all in all this is a land lover's idyll.

Oh, yes, the house! Built on three levels to utilize the spectacular setting, it consists of entry hall, living and dining rooms, den, kitchen with eating area, recreation room, five bedrooms, 4 full and 2 half baths, laundry room, 3 fireplaces, greenhouse, deck, covered terrace, 2 car, electric-doored garage. Nearly all the rooms are quite large, liberally embellished with decorative and practical touches, in marvelous condition, and designed for their occupants to enjoy the really great outdoors.

HOUGHTON REAL ESTATE

You'll love this graceful new Colonial situated in Princeton Township. It's had excellence in its construction and good taste in the planning of its spacious rooms. First floor consists of large entry, living room, dining room, family room with floor to ceiling fireplace, large, well equipped kitchen with dining area, laundry and powder room. Four large bedrooms and two baths. Beautifully treed 1-1/3 acre lot.

We give you the happy beginning — you supply the ever after. $79,000

The first thing that will catch your eye is the extensive landscaping and handsome trees. Its a good indication of the charm inside. Large living room, panelled family room — both with fireplaces — formal dining room, study, kitchen, powder room, laundry room on the first floor. Four bedrooms and two baths on the second. $74,500

Use your imagination! Clever planning can convert two non-descript cottages on four lovely acres, under towering shade trees into a garden paradise. Are you the person to perform this interesting undertaking? We'd love to hear your ideas. $110,000

So come, look, and let us help you become part of the "Beautiful Life" of Princeton!

Once we sold this house to a man who had looked at about forty other houses! He said, "This one is a potential charmer," set about making it one and was transferred out of town. Ditto the next owner. Now the house sits — living room, dining ell, panelled family room, kitchen with eating area, three bedrooms, one full and two half baths — waiting for our man's prediction to come true. What it needs: finishing touches and tender loving care. What it has: a delightful secluded setting overlooking Stony Brook; lovely greenery, running the gamut from pachysandra to pines, a Western Township location for only $52,500

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. ■ Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land . . . and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. ■ Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?

Member "Multiple Listing Service" Mercer County

The ladies are almost speechless this week about our latest listing. A wonderful Old Colonial dating back to 1805 on 3½ acres on the Griggstown Road between Princeton and Belle Mead. Presently being used as a two family with an income of $3,600 per year and taxes of only $1,500+! Opening two doors would make it a large gracious home again for the growing family . . . or keeping it "as is" makes it ideal for the man who needs "Write-offs"! Each side has living room, dining room, mud room, modern kitchen, two baths . . . one side has four bedrooms, the other three. Fully restored in 1962 so everything mechanical is perfect! Come see it. $74,500

Bakeoret Drive . . . A beautiful White Colonial glistening among the trees and wild flowers. Fully air conditioned, five bedrooms, 2½ baths . . . with so many extras they can't be described. Large living room with fireplace, center hall, fabulous dining room, panelled family room with dutch door to enclosed back yard with A-Frame play house, den (also paneled), large eat-in kitchen with all the modern features a wife looks for, including a menu-planning center. Full basement . . . etc., Come see it for yourself. $94,500

In Kingston, the perfectly restored Colonial on a lovely half acre . . . within walking distance of town. Living room, dining room, family room, and a top-of-the-line Kenmore Kitchen, fully equipped with stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, disposal, freezer, combination washer-dryer. Upstairs: four bedrooms and modern bath. You can move right in. But hurry . . . the price is right, too. $41,500

THAT VERY SPECIAL HOUSE in RIVERSIDE . . . Originally, built longer and wider than others in the area. Later, centrally air-conditioned. The garden has been tended with utmost care. Foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, family room with new indoor-outdoor carpeting, powder room, large basement. Three bedrooms, two baths. $59,500

THE SMALL HOUSE . . . custom built in the Battlefield Park area, with soft brick facade, and long low lines . . . all set off by mature shrubs and trees, and rich carpet-like lawn. Large living room with fireplace, dining room, wonderful kitchen with breakfast area, two bedrooms, two baths, panelled recreation room with wet bar and powder room. Central air-conditioning. New carpeting. Freshly painted. Lots of expansion. $105,000

THE BUILDER'S OWN HOUSE ON CHERRY BROOK DRIVE. A lovely Southern Colonial with five large bedrooms and 2½ baths. Foyer, living room, dining room, tremendous kitchen, family room with brick fireplace, terrace. Centrally air conditioned with humidifier, water softener, thermopane windows and doors, circular drive, etc., etc on cul de sac. Anxious for offer in the 60's

THE SITUATION THAT HAS EVERYONE TALKING . . . a restored colonial on 7 acres in a nearby township with unbelievably low taxes. Entrance hall, living room with fireplace, family-dining room with fireplace, screened porch, nice kitchen, charming study, powder room. Three bedrooms and full bath upstairs with extras like random width pine floors, dutch door, slate roof, 3-car garage with studio above. Central air conditioning. (Available for rental at $425 per month) $65,000

MOVING? . . . Let one of our Inter-City Relocation Brokers in almost any city in the country help you get started. They'll meet you at the airport, get you a room, and find you a house . . . all in one fell swoop!

BEING TRANSFERRED? . . . Want instant money for your house? If you're in a hurry and will take an appraised price, POTERE will buy your house to give you the cash you need for your new location. Call us for details.

Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range. Ample parking space for our clients.
